

Junior High Age Is When Boys Turn to Crime!

"We'll have to write off the kids in their midteens," and concentrate on youngsters in the sixth grade and earlier, Curtis O. Lynum, retired special agent in charge of the San Francisco Bureau of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, told the Council of Mayors of San Mateo County in a talk on current crime trends at a meeting in South San Francisco last week.

"Most youngsters—90 out of a 100—are pro-law until they reach junior high school," Lynum maintained. "Then something tragic happens between the ninth and twelfth grades. The police haven't changed. We're the same guys those kids respected standing on the street corner or riding a motorcycle. But something has happened to those kids."

The former FBI agent said he would never "tolerate" sending his own children going to Stanford University after reading a recent article in Look Magazine in which it was said the university "tolerated" a professor who advocated civil disobedience.

Agreeing that the article was "flimsy" and did not go into motivations, Lynum whose own children attend Hillsdale High School, added, "I sure crossed that school off my list." Noting that crime has been increasing six times faster than the population since 1950, Lynum expressed the hope that 1967 may be the reversal year in the crime trend.

"The people are fed up with riots and disturbances," he maintained, and he placed the blame squarely on newspapers for coining the term "civil disobedience."

"Either you break the law or you don't," he added, maintaining that police are consequently getting better.

Because youngsters are getting married at 18 years and younger, the ex-FBI executive claimed that "kids are raising kids." He said that public opinion is the main thing in crime prevention, and noted that most of the people being arrested are persons who are already on parole.

"The public should become concerned," he added. "Many of the problems are not as complex as they sometime seem." He continued, "We must start with the kids ten or 11 years old and forget the past. We must write off what was, and start a ten to 15-year program ahead."

Mayor Sidney Herkner of Redwood City was elected the county's representative to the Association of Bay Area Governments by a 9 to 4 vote over incumbent representative Maurice K. Hamilton of San Bruno. Hamilton even lost out as an alternate delegate to his fellow San Bruno council member, Karney Barberian.

Councilmen Sam H. Halsted of Portola Valley and Harlan Minshew of Pacifica were nominated as county representative to Bay Area advisory board set up by the state legislature to advise on organization of a regional government. The election will take place at the mayors' meeting next month.

Nominated as the third county representative to ABAG were Mayor John Murray of San Mateo, Hamilton and Charles Yetter of Millbrae. Election to this office also will take place next month.

John Rosselli of Redwood City was nominated as the county's alternate representative to the Bay Area Transportation Study committee.

Mayor Werner Diederichsen of Burlingame, chairman of the group, named a committee to select nominees for new mayors council chairman.

Football Contest

An 11-year-old sixth grade student at Nesbit School in Belmont is the seventh week's winner in the Times-Post Football Contest.

Ken Gerstle, 325 Chesterton, Belmont, won first prize of two tickets to the California-Stanford Big Game by naming 12 of the 15 games correctly and giving the nearest estimate of the net yards made by the 49'ers in their loss to Detroit last Sunday.

Since there was not a cash winner, this week's prize is $100, plus $50 bonus for being a home delivered subscriber to The Times. Fill your entry blank out now and mail it before the Thursday night deadline.

Ken, who is the youngest winner so far this year, won on his first entry to the contest.

DALY CITY NIGHT

'City Folks' Seemed To Like the Show

It was Daly City night at the Grand National Monday and some 4,500 persons turned out to witness the gala event staged in the newly remodeled Cow Palace.

Judging by the rounds of applause given each bronc buster, rough rider and roper, the "city folks" liked what they saw during the four-hour-long performance.

But the loudest applause was reserved for the star of Daly City Night — television personality Eddie Albert, who showed that his talent go beyond reading a few lines in front of the TV cameras.

Albert swapped jokes with comic Pat Buttram, told several humorous stories (family type) and sang songs. If the stage had been larger he probably would have danced.

There was little doubt that the idea of using "Big Name Stars" in future Grand Nationals as a drawing card would continue, according to a Cow Palace spokesman.

This year's attendance records at the exposition have thus far broken all previous reords, primarily because of the added star attractions.

And Monday night was no exception.

The use of show business personalities in this year's Grand National — which included Eva Gabor, Jim Nabors, Eddie Albert, Wayne Newton, Pat Buttram and the young Americans — was an expensive experiment and Cow Palace officials were not sure exactly how the general public would react to a mixture of cows and stars.

How much the stars were thus far broken all previous re-

D.C. Court Operation Is Studied

When and under what circumstances a full-time municipal court branch will operate in Daly City depends on a report of the state Judicial Council, which is expected in about three weeks, County Manager E. R. Stallings said last week.

The report is to help determine what facilities will be needed in Daly City by recommending what types of court cases could be best handled there.

Stallings met Tuesday with Judges F. Jose deLarios and Paul Hupf, Mayor Bernard Lyett and City Manager Edward Frank, County Supervisor Jean Fassler and Henry Tarratt, county building director, to review the situation. Lyett and Frank said as much of the old city hall building can be used for as long as necessary for the court and its complementary offices.

Tarratt estimated that it would cost $32,000 to remodel the old building to accommodate a court that could hold jury trials, plus a branch traffic department, officers for the court clerk, district attorney and probation officer, a jury room and rest rooms. He estimated, however, that about $8,000 of the cost could be salvaged for use in the new courthouse, which is to be built in co-operative with the Jefferson High School District.

Of the remaining $24,000 cost, some would be of value to the city, which has tentative plans for converting the old building into a public library. Stallings suggested that Daly City should bear part of the cost of refurbishing the old building.

The county manager said he doubted the wisdom of putting a traffic department in Daly City.

"It would be a fairly costly duplication of the one in South San Francisco," he explained.

Less than one week remains to submit your entries for The Times-Post Fall Photo Contest, featuring $215 in cash prizes.

All entries must be received by The Times by November 6, at 5 p.m. Winning photos will be published in The Times' Weekend magazine November 11.

An official entry blank, along with rules of the contest, appears in The Times today on page 21.

Coast Signal Work Begins

Work began last week on the installation of traffic signals and channelization at the Rockaway Beach intersection with Coast Highway in Pacifica.

The state division of highways approved the installations this year after city officials, acting upon demands from citizens and a number of coastal city organizations, pointed out the safety hazards there.

D.C. SOPHISTICATION

It's a Modern Gunnery Range for Policemen

Assortment Of Target Challenges

By FRANK LAPIERRE

One of the most modern indoor pistol ranges in the country went into operation this week in Daly City.

Located in the new $5.2 million Civic Center, the police department firing range is considered far more sophisticated than ranges installed in similar size cities throughout the area.

The range has more than $14,000 worth of the latest in pistol range equipment installed, and can offer the shooter an assortment of challenges while affording him maximum protection.

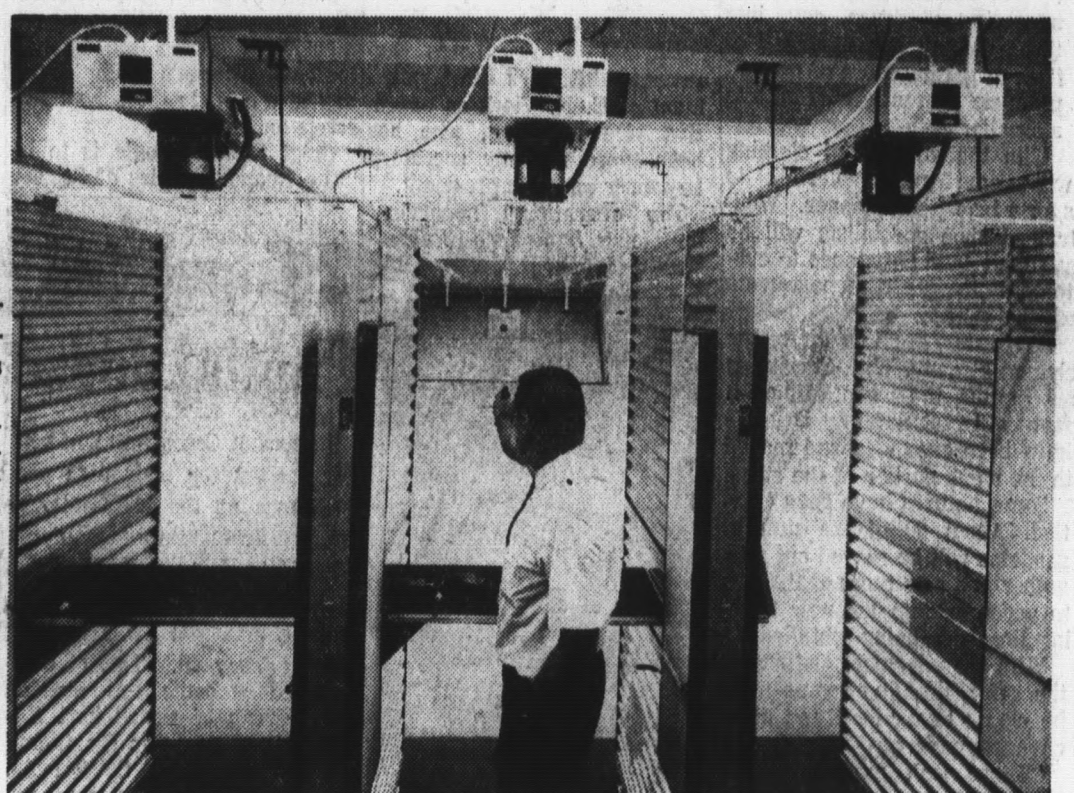

Monorail targets can be controlled either by individual shooters or from a centrally located soundproofed booth at the rear of the facility.

Targets can be stopped at 25, 50 or 75 yard distances; can be made to turn aside at predetermined intervals, and are easily brought forward for scorers to check each hit — or miss.

Another feature of the range is the unique bullet trap behind the targets themselves.

The revolutionary "Deadend Bullet Trap" consists of a series of overlapping metal plates which prevent expended slugs from bouncing around the range.

Unlike the plate and sandpit type traps, which prevented the re-use of a large part of the lead slugs simply because of the difficulty in digging them out of the trap, the newer trap allows

DALY CITY SHOOTOUT — Police Chief Roland Petrocchi fires the first shot in the new indoor firing range built inside the Daly City Civic Center by Lyle Ingersoll Company. Cost of equipment inside the revolutionary range was some $14,000. An automatic monorail system presets targets 25, 50 or 75-yards down range, and can be controlled by individual shooters or from a control room. Chief Petrocchi, considered an expert with the pistol, is firing at a "bullseye" target 50 yards down range. (He missed.) (Post Photo)

all lead to be retrieved and smelted down for reloads — thus lowering the cost of operation, range officer Jim Welsh explained.

(Reloads cost approximately one cent each, factory reloads some two cents and new bullets more than four cents each.)

Built by Lyle Ingersoll Company, the range is almost completely soundproof and persons standing outside the building are unable to hear the firing in progress inside.

Ceiling baffles also contribute to keeping noise to an absolute minimum inside the structure.

Nevertheless, Police Chief Roland Petrocchi has issued orders that all persons using the range must wear specially designed earmuffs for further protection.

A bank of lights installed above the targets simulate almost any condition — from dawn to daylight to dusk.

"Everything except fog and rain... and we're working on that now," Petrocchi said.

In the past, police officers were required to use an outdoor range in Colma for their monthly shooting.

The type of targets, weather conditions and distance from police headquarters, slowed down (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

TALK AT CHAMBER

Daly City Has Made Giant Strides: Hupf

During the past four years Daly City has made giant strides forward and now compares to any city in the state, Judge Paul Hupf told the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce Monday.

Talking to the general membership meeting in the Arena Room of the Cow Palace, Hupf retraced the steps taken to annex the Bayshore District which encompassed the Cow Palace.

"At first Cow Palace officials felt concern (over the annexation) and tried to defeat it," Hupf said, adding, "I am certain they have since felt differently about the matter."

Hupf said cooperation between the city government and the Cow Palace management have resulted in mutual understanding and better relations between the city and famed exhibition facility.

The Northern Judicial District judge pointed to the construction of Mary's Help Hospital, the Civic Center and the establishment of various government agencies within the city as a sign that Daly City is progressing "in the right direction."

Harmony among city council members was cited as the main reason for the fast progress of the North County's largest city.

"Our city council doesn't air their grievances in public. They may not always agree or vote unanimously on a subject, but they do not bicker among themselves," Hupf said.

The council manages to resolve its difficulties without public debate on most "routine" matters, while some city governments air their differences in public, rather than "working them out," Hupf said.

Daly City Night at the Grand National was "a sure sign that this city has taken some definite steps forward," Hupf said.

South S.F. Stalls Permit

South San Francisco planning commissioners this week postponed action on a use permit for the proposed Roman Catholic Church-Parochial School complex in Westborough until next year.

Planning commissioners dropped the controversial item from their agenda Monday at the request of Joseph Fitzpatrick, a San Francisco realtor representing the church and City Attorney John Noonan.

A public hearing on the permit application was tentatively rescheduled during May, 1968.

Noonan recommended postponing the matter because of the pending city council action on a request from Caesar-Callan Homes, Inc., for rezoning a 180-acre parcel in Westborough to a "PC" (planned community) district.

If the planned community is approved, as recommended by the planning commission, an ordinance amendment will be necessary before the church-school permit can be granted.

"The entire matter is becoming rather complicated," Noonan said, "and I feel it would be wiser to consider the various aspects one at a time."

Fitzpatrick said Monsignor Mark Hurley, who is directing the project for the San Francisco Archdiocese, is away on vacation. Several members of the church building committee were also out of town when the hearing was scheduled Monday.

Ryan Hopes for Sierra Point Bridge Crossing

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Unless the location of the proposed new trans-bay bridge is planned carefully an already traffic choked San Francisco will strangle to death, Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan said last week.

In a speech to the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, Ryan said he was "completely bewildered" by San Francisco's insistence that the proposed bridge terminus be located at India Basin (Hunter's Point), instead of further down the Peninsula at Sierra Point in San Mateo County.

Related Story, Page Five

"San Francisco is already in a hock for a (BART) system that is questionable at best. And the purpose of BART is to get cars off San Francisco's streets," Ryan said.

The assemblyman asked: "Why, then, does San Francisco want a bridge that will feed an additional 18,000 cars daily onto its already clogged streets — and especially in the Army Street-Alameda Avenue interchange?"

The reason for this "outdated thinking," according to Ryan, was that many San Francisco merchants "think the more cars coming into the city, the better business will be."

Ryan waited until the end of his speech to offer the biggest argument in favor of constructing the bridge at Sierra Point — the cost factor.

"It will cost an estimated $100 million less to build the bridge between Roberts Landing (Alameda) and Brisbane," Ryan said, adding, "The fact that both these areas are growing at a faster rate than San Francisco — which has had a stable growth rate for many years — should also be considered."

According to the Toll Authority the Sierra Point bridge would cost an estimated $159,700,000. With connections between the bridge, Guadalupe Canyon Parkway (Brisbane) and the proposed Hunter's Point Freeway, total costs would amount to some $209,700,000.

The Sierra Point bridge would tie in with the East Bay highway complex, including highway 50 and the Nimitz Freeway.

The India Basin Hunter's Point to the East Bay (Davis Street in San Leandro and the proposed Grove-Shafter Freeway) will cost a total of $300,000,000.

Although there have been a series of informal talks on the location of the proposed bridge, the Toll Authority has taken no action and are still working on preliminary designs for estuary tubes, bridge architecture and related matters concerning construction, a spokesman for the Authority said.

Governor Reagan is chairman of the Authority and can call a special meeting on the subject at any time Ryan said.

"I believe Governor Reagan is receptive to any and all ideas on the matter," Ryan said. "The final decision is up to him."

Candidates' Night In San Bruno

The San Bruno Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Congressional Candidates' Night in connection with the coming congressional election for the 11th District.

All of the remaining candidates in the race have been invited to appear at the meeting, scheduled for Sunday, November 5, in the San Bruno Park-School Auditorium.

The program will begin at 8:00 p.m. with a moderator introducing the candidates who will have five minutes each to highlight their qualifications and platform to the audience. Following their presentations, a question-and-answer period will be held giving interested San Bruno and surrounding area citizens an opportunity to gain answers on specific problems and programs.

The public is encouraged to attend the meeting, to familiarize themselves with the candidates, so that they will be better informed of their qualifications and programs before going to the polls on November 14 to elect a new 11th District Congressman.

The Candidates' Night program is being coordinated for the Chamber of Commerce by Mrs. Harold Preston of San Bruno. Further information concerning the meeting can be obtained by calling the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce office. Coffee will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

with Caesar-Callan Homes, Inc. In other action, the council adopted a resolution approving the budgeting of approximately a quarter of a million dollars in gas tax funds for street improvement.

The resolution was necessary to prevent the city's gas tax reserves from reverting to the state controller under new state legislation, and the budget is "very tentative," according to Public Works' Director Louis Goss.

Pacifican Held For Marijuana

Pacifican police, responding to a casualty call at 1311 Livingston early Sunday, arrested 27-year-old Richard Mahoney on narcotics charges.

A police spokesman said Patrolman James Howell and Reserve Officer Russ Yorks found the suspect's mother, Mrs. Olivia Mahoney, bleeding from the nose upon their arrival.

They stopped the bleeding and called an ambulance to transport the woman to Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City.

While making the telephone call, Howell noted what appeared to be narcotics paraphernalia, police said.

SOLID WOOD
VERSUS VENEERS

Many people have a misconception about the desirability and durability of solid wood furniture as compared with veneers. Actually, there are so many advantages in using veneers that the great majority of fine furniture is made with laminated veneers today.

First of all, the beautiful grains of many fine woods which you see on bedroom, dining room and other furniture can only be accomplished with veneers.

Wood veneer is a thin cross slice or lamination of beautifully grained woods and this art has been going on since ancient times in Greece, Egypt and elsewhere.

Very often, three, five or more layers of these lovely veneers are cross grained and glued to a solid wood base, and this process makes the furniture more durable than solid wood furniture.

This does not mean that all veneer furniture is better than all solid wood furniture since it all depends on the quality of furniture referred to. But the only way you can get the advantage of the really exquisite grains of wood is with veneered furniture.

We brought you this discussion today because so many folks have asked us about veneers vs. solid wood. We hope you found it interesting. And, don't hesitate to stop in anytime and discuss furniture with us. We're here to serve you — whether you're ready to buy or not.

Youth Rescued From Mori's Point

Pacifica firemen rescued a 19-year old youth from Mori's Point as he and a companion perched on a large ledge some 75 feet above the ocean Saturday.

A fire department spokesman said Bart D. Wuelfing of 1310 Turk Street, San Francisco, had been in the state but five days from the trail, apparently attempted to scale the steep cliff from the ocean side.

He was about halfway between the top of the point and the water when he "froze" on a ledge, the fire department source said.

Lang, already on a rock below, climbed back up to stay with Wuelfing while his brother went for help.

Firemen lowered a basket from the top and Lang assisted Wuelfing into it. After pulling up Wuelfing, the fireman also decided to save Lang a trip and used the basket to get him to the top, too.

South S. F. Man Is Drowned

A South San Francisco man apparently drowned Sunday morning after he fell from a speeding motor boat in the Bay near Oyster Point.

Police said Joseph Brignardello, 40, of 120 Eucalyptus Street, was thrown from his fishing companion, Valentino Parreira, also lost his footing but fell inside the boat, police said.

Brignardello was turning the boat when the throttle stuck in the "full speed" position. The victim fell over the side, and sank into the water.

A Coast Guard helicopter and patrol boat searched the area for several hours Sunday, but failed to recover Brignardello's body. A spokesman said further attempts would be made today.

Brignardello was an employee of the South San Francisco Scavenger Co.

SSF Parking Plan Returns For Revision

South San Francisco councilmen October 23 returned to the planning commission a parking ordinance amendment proposal aimed at tightening parking requirements in the city's industrial area.

The council has recommended that the new parking regulations be based "more on the number of employees than on the amount of floor space in the industrial plants."

City Planner Daniel Pass and the planning commissioners recommended an amendment which would require one off-street parking space for each three employees or each 2,000 square feet of floor space.

The council has proposed that the new regulations require one space for each two employees. The ordinance amendment was proposed as a means of implementing an on-street parking ban in the industrial area.

The city's Industrial Park Association has requested the parking ban in order to clear the streets during peak traffic periods, but a number of firms in the city have voiced opposition to the proposal.

Police Chief John Fabbri is conducting a study of the parking situation in the area, and a public hearing on the matter will be held within a few weeks, according to Mayor Patrick Ahearn.

The parking ordinance amendment will be returned for council action after planning commissioners consider the recommended modifications. City Manager Eugene Afello said.

53rd Run To Mountain

Division of Forestry fire fighters made their fifty-third run of the season to San Bruno Mountain Sunday afternoon to put out a grass fire.

Four trucks and a bulldozer were sent to battle the blaze, which burned over 15 acres on the Daly City side of the hill.

Firemen said the fire was possibly started by motorcycle riders.

Pacifica Mayor Backs Sierra

In response to the City of Pacifica's official stand in support for a reconsideration of the multi-million dollar second bay bridge, the Southern Crossing, Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan wrote a letter to Governor Ronald Reagan.

In the letter, Ryan said, "I am absolutely convinced that this bridge terminus must be changed from India Basin to Sierra Point. It is inconsistent for San Francisco to argue in favor of an additional $70-80 million for Rapid Transit to take cars off San Francisco streets, and at the same time, to argue for a bridge terminus which will cost $100 million more than the proposed crossing at Sierra Point. Such a bridge terminus at India Basin would only dump thousands of additional cars a day into the City of San Francisco."

"Either the proposed Rapid Transit system is based upon faulty logic or the present location of the bridge is in the same position," Ryan stated. "Since $1.75 billion are already earmarked for construction of BART, it is obviously more reasonable to re-examine the decision to locate the Southern Crossing at India Basin instead of Sierra Point."

Pacifica Mayor Grace McCarthy said in a letter to Assemblyman Ryan, the reopening and re-evaluation of the issue "... in terms of the greatest benefit to all concerned ... will result in the selection of the Sierra Point location."

Driver Flees Lawmen- But He Doesn't Get Away

A 100-mile-an-hour chase down Bayshore Freeway ended a half-mile north of Sierra Point Friday night when the suspect car crashed into the center divider fence, skidded backwards across all three southbound lanes and through the roadside thicket before being abandoned by its driver, according to police officers.

Daly City Officer Richard Seguire plus Highway Patrol and sheriff's officers, the latter with a dog, searched the area for an hour before locating Richard Matsumoto, 23, of San Francisco, who told them he had attempted to apply his brakes and lost control.

Seguire said he first picked up Matsumoto's trail in the 6100 block of Mission Street at about 10 p.m. for a minor traffic violation, but that the car didn't stop. The chase led to Bayshore and south. The car went through the thicket and came to rest on the Brisbane dump road covered with brush, police said.

Matsumoto was treated at Peninsula Hospital for ankle and shoulder injuries and released. Highway Patrol officers said they would recommend he be cited for reckless driving.

Typical of the charming aperitif enjoyed at the sidewalk cafes of Paris. Here you get a full 30 ounces— $\frac{1}{4}$  more than the usual aperitif. ENTER NOW!

Send in your entry in the
FOOTBALL CONTEST
Sponsored by the Post-Times
Entries available every Tuesday and Wednesday in The Times; every Wednesday in The Post
RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. Select the winner of each game by placing an "X" in the box on the margin side of the team you think will win. If you predict the game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Ties" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given to contestants who predict the tie.
2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the S.F. 49ers will make in Sunday's game in the box provided. (This estimate will only be used in case of ties between two contestants.)
3. Clip and mail the entry blank to:
FOOTBALL CONTEST
The Post
30 Park Plaza Dr.
Daly City, Calif. 94015
4. Entries must be postmarked prior to midnight Thursday of this week or delivered to The Times prior to midnight Thursday of this week. The Times is not responsible for entries lost, delayed or destroyed or which fail to reach The Times by 9:30 A.M. on Saturday.
5. To receive the cash prize the winner must pick all 15 games correctly. If the entry does not pick all games right, then the winner will receive 2 tickets to the Big Game, California vs. Stanford on November 18. The previous week's contest cash prize will be added to the next week's contest if it is not distributed to a winner. This cash prize will be given to the winner of the final week's contest if it has not been distributed before. The final week's winner will not need to guess all 15 games to win the cash prize. In case ties cannot be broken between contestants by the tie-breaker rule, the prize will be divided equally. (This includes ties between contestants who pick 15 correct games.)
6. A bonus of $50 will be given to each cash prize winner (not Big Game ticket winners) who is a home-delivered subscriber to The San Mateo Times or indicates immediate delivery of the Times to the San Mateo office. In the event two or more subscribers divide the contest cash prize, the bonus prize will be divided in the same manner.
7. Number of entries from one household is limited to fifteen (15) official entry blanks but only one (1) exact sized facsimile of the official entry blank may be submitted. Submission of more than one facsimile in any one week will render all facsimiles submitted by that contestant void.
8. Entries may be attached to a postcard, mailed in an envelope or delivered by hand to the San Mateo or the Daly City offices of The Times.
9. Anyone may enter the contest except employees of The Times or immediate members of their family.
10. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decisions. All entries become the property of The Times; no answers may be returned. The Times reserves the right to correct any typographical errors in the entry blank which affect the outcome of the contest. Answers to the contest or winners' names will NOT be given out over the phone. Winners will be notified by The Times.

THE JEFFERSON SCENE

Soph, Junior
Tests Given

By WENDY WOOLERY

Sophomores and juniors were tested last week, a required state program to measure academic progress.

The various schools evaluate their curricula to learn if they are giving the best possible education to their students.

The tests cover reading (for 60 minutes) and mathematical comprehension (35 minutes).

Because of the difference in the time needed to take these tests, the bell schedules were changed. Thus ensued alarm and great happiness: alarm since some pupils had their most unpleasant subjects for 70 minutes; great happiness, because some had these same unpleasanties for only 30 minutes.

A NEW CLUB has been formed.

It is the Ice-Skating Club, whose advisor is Mrs. Elsie Rose. Its first "skate" will be next week at the Burlingame Skating Rink. Mrs. Rose thinks that after this activity she will be able to tell whether or not her club will be a "smashing success."

But, if all the 35 students who signed up remain, she will have a good club on her hands.

OUR YEARBOOK, The Totem Pole, has had professional photographs taken of clubs, faculty, and athletic teams. The photographer has been seen walking around Jeff's campus, harassed by Lester Toy, Jeannine Taylor, Michelle Payton, Kirs Fleming, Sue Taylor, or Lynn Hillman.

THE SENIORS are sponsoring their annual "bash" in the cafeteria. The theme of their dance is "Wendy Witch's Brew Stomp": Kind of a classy name, no?

The Revelers, a San Francisco band, will furnish the music.

Ticket sales have doubled senior funds in the treasury.

IN THE SEVENTH PERIOD English class of Bill Curran, there has been much discussion of "Alienation of Subcultures." In Mike Tugendreich's seventh period sociology class, the topic has been much the same.

Twice the classes have gotten together to have "conversations" on this topic and have been "channeled" by Rudy Tretten, vice principal for education.

These three teachers would discuss among themselves alienation — inviting comments and questions from the students.

The discussions were heated sometimes, yet that was a good sign, for it showed the students were thinking.

It was agreed that a field trip might help "background" the talking, were discovered, so, plans were made to take the group into San Francisco — to South of Market, the Tenderloin, and Fillmore.

Many of the students had not been exposed to the filth and rejected feelings of the residents of those areas, and it was quite shocking to many if they.

Everyone felt that it was a very worthwhile trip and would like to take another one, but next time they will be more prepared to cope with alienation, prejudice and guilt.

Washington
P-TA Program

The theme of the today's 7:30 p.m. George Washington School November's PTA meeting is "Children and Teacher's Participation."

The four six grades will host the evening activity.

Miss Dana Martin's class will present a Thanksgiving skit; Mrs. Ethel Kazakoff class will present a group of songs of Thanksgiving and also examine the meaning of the Pledge of Allegiance; and Mr. Harold Gold class will present a language lesson, part of the children's play being written in class.

Coffee Cake With An Orange Topping

Good morning, good cooks.

The rewards of writing a column like this are many. Besides the obvious ones of fame and fortune (oh?), there is the pleasure in the personal contact through your letters and calls, and the sharing of all the good recipes you send to me.

Just this week a generous gal told how she enjoyed the "Loretta's Lemon Cake" recipe and had just remade it substituting orange gelatin in the cake and concentrated orange juice in the sauce, saying it was equally delicious.

In response to another call, I pass on this coffee cake with an orange topping.

BUTTERMILK COFFEE RING

- 1½ sticks (three-fourths cup) soft butter or margarine
- 1½ cups sugar
- 3 eggs
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 1 Tbsp. grated orange rind
- ¼ cup raisins

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Cream the one and one-half sticks margarine and the one and one-half cups sugar well. Add the three eggs and beat thoroughly.

Sift together the three cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon each soda and salt. Add to creamed mixture, alternately with the one cup buttermilk, mixing just until blended. Stir in the one tablespoon grated orange rind.

Turn half the batter into a greased and floured 10-inch tube pan. Sprinkle half the streusel mixture over the batter; sprinkle the one fourth cup raisins over the streusel mixture. Top with remaining batter and streusel mixture.

Bake 50 to 60 minutes, until cake tests done. Let cool in pan for 15 minutes before removing.

Orange Sugar Glaze, mix one cup sifted confectioners' sugar with two tablespoons orange juice and spread over top.

STREUSEL MIXTURE

- ½ cup brown sugar, packed
- ½ cup flour
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- ½ stick (¼ cup) soft butter or margarine

Combine the one-half cup brown sugar with the one-third cup flour and the two teaspoons cinnamon. Blend in the one-half stick butter.

When I went through my files looking for the orange coffee cake I found some very interesting and tasty recipes for orange bread and this seems the perfect time to share them with you.

ORANGE QUICK BREAD

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 2 teas. baking powder
- 1 teas. salt
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ½ cup liquid oil or melted shortening
- 2 eggs, beaten
- ¾ cup orange juice (fresh or frozen)
- grated rind of one orange
- ¼ cup chopped nuts
- ¼ cup rolled oats

Into a large mixing bowl, sift the two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder and one teaspoon salt. Next add all the remaining ingredients: one-half cup brown sugar, one-third cup oil, two beaten eggs, three-fourths cup orange juice, grated orange rind, ¼ cup nuts and three-fourths cup rolled oats. Using a light hand on the job, stir just until all ingredients are moistened.

Pour into a greased and lightly floured 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in 350-degree oven for one hour. Cool on wire rack several hours before cutting.

ORANGE LOAF

- 2 cups K cereal
- 3 cups flour, sifted
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teas. soda
- ½ teas. salt
- ¼ cup shortening
- ¼ cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 can frozen orange juice (6-oz.) thawed
- ¼ cup milk
- ½ cup chopped nuts

Measure and sift together the three cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon each soda and salt. Cream the one-fourth shortening and three-fourths cup sugar well and add the two eggs. Beat well. Stir in the can orange juice and one-third cup milk and one-half cup nuts.

Add the sifted dry ingredients, stir just enough to combine. Lastly fold in the two cups crushed cereal. Spread in greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan and bake in 350-degree oven for 45 minutes. Cool on wire rack.

AS DELICIOUS as these goodies are, we all know that we can't live on cake alone, so I want to finish off this week's offering with a very easy and inexpensive entree.

This recipe came from Mrs. John C. Norton, who lives at 2243 27th Ave. in San Francisco and who happens to be the nicest mother-in-law in the world.

FAMILY MEAT PATTYS

- 1 lb. ground meat
- 3 slices bread, crumbled
- salt and pepper
- ½ teas. baking powder
- ¼ cup onion, chopped fine
- ½ cup milk
- 1 can cream of mushroom soup

Combine the one pound ground beef with the three slices crumbled bread.

(Note: Try placing the bread in the freezer, they will crumble much easier when frozen.) Season to taste with salt and pepper. Next add the one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-fourth cup onion and one-half cup milk.

Shape into pattys and brown in skillet. Place in baking dish. Combine the can of mushroom soup with three-fourths cup water and pour over pattys. Cover and bake in 400-degree oven for 30 minutes.

LOUANNE HEATH

(Family Life Columnist)

It is the season for preferential teas and the local sororities are, in keeping with the time honored tradition, polishing their silver tea services and pressing table linens in preparation for this year's events.

Members of Nu Sigma and Xi Xi Zet chapters of Beta Sigma Phi sorority are joining forces to honor the rushees of Nu Sigma. According to Mrs. Michael Sugrue, the afternoon affair will be held in the St. Francis Heights home of Mrs. Paul Smirich November 5.

A LESS FORMAL and totally different type of weekend is being anticipated by the members of the Westlake Senior Citizens.

Willard Wagner, treasurer and publicist par excellence, reports that it is time for the members to take a jaunt to Reno and Carson City to "observe the customs of the natives."

Future plans call for anniversary dinner, celebrating the club's founding, to be held on November 15 in the New Southern Restaurant. A tour of the McClellan Acres of Orchids will precede the banquet, Wagner said.

BOUTIQUE DE NOEL, sponsored annually by the members of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild, will be held, as in the past, during the week preceding Thanksgiving, according to Mrs. Fred Mortara, president.

Mrs. Shelly Mangini enthused eloquently about the dolls and the handmade wardrobes that will be features at the sale. Also on display will be wearing apparel, beautifully designed tree and door ornaments, table centerpieces and an elaborate assemblage of miscellany designed to add color and gaiety to holiday decorating. Christmas fruit cakes and nut breads will dominate the food counter, Mrs. Mangini said.

The Boutique de Noel Preview Reception, to which the public is cordially invited, will be held on Thursday, November 16 at 8 p.m. in the solarium room of the hospital. Reservations, costing $2.50 each, are available from Mrs. Elwin Short, boutique chairman, to individuals calling 755-5669. The sale will continue the following day, November 17, in the hospital lobby from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. There will be no charge on the second day and the public is invited.

Proceeds of the benefit are earmarked for the construction of a special cardiac unit, Mrs. Mangini indicated.

AN "APRON PARADE" will be the entertaining feature of the November meeting of the Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mother's Club Meeting, according to Mrs. Fernando Pacheco.

Mrs. Joseph Drew, the sewing chairman for the annual Mother's Club Bazaar, has urged members to make aprons to model in the "parade." Prizes will be offered for the prettiest and most practical aprons.

Mrs. Joseph Deniele is the chairman of the November 26 bazaar.

MEMBERS of the Alpha Iota Business Sorority, San Francisco Alumni chapter, will gather in the Fairmont home of Mrs. Clifford Taylor Tuesday evening for the monthly business and social meeting.

Mrs. James McCraney of Westlake, state representative for the chapter, will present her report on activities of the 31st annual convocation of the sorority's Pacific Western Association in Fresno.

Mrs. Blanche Whitehill of the local chapter was installed association president and the unit was awarded the prize for being the alumni group having the highest percentage of members attending the convocation.

MONTE VERDE P-TA will sponsor weekly ice cream sales, children's movies, a holiday carnival, a magic show and a sweatshirt sale to finance this year's budget of $1,300 according to Mrs. William J. Kelley.

The budget was approved at the first general fall meeting. It provided Mrs. Jerry Cimmert, president, an opportunity to introduce the school's teaching staff to parents.

Mrs. Kelley reported that the Monte Verde P-TA also was issuing a note of appreciation to South San Francisco School District Supt. Dr. Paul Nielsen, Mrs. Toni Brown, unit vice president, The Westborough Association, the Citizens Bond Committee and the League Women Voters, all of whom were active in urging citizens to vote in the recent bond election. Thanks also went to members of the Monte Verde third grade for posters.

PACIFICA'S Fifty Plus Club will meet November 14, at 10 a.m., to discuss plans for the whist party November 28, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan said prizes for the party from members and friends would be appreciated.

Also needed are cards, tables and players!

THE DALY CITY COMMUNITY CHORUS, pleased with a warm reception at the Cow Palace is preparing to celebrate the holiday season with a party, according to Mrs. Ann Peters.

Mrs. Shirley Spence, social chairman, is making the preparations for a Christmas party December 15 at the House of Parties in Daly City.

The group will celebrate Thanksgiving by packing a basket for a needy Daly City family.

Mrs. Connie Ody is the project chairman.

One project being undertaken by everyone in the chorus is the recruitment of tenors. A shortage of men in the tenor section has concerned the group and Mrs. Peters issued an S.O.S. this past week. No auditions are required for members, persons interested, tenors, sopranos, altos, baritone or basses, are asked to attend a rehearsal any Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in the Westmoor Club house.

Presbyterian Women Set 'Thank Offering' Meet

The U.P.W. of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377-87th Street in Daly City is having its annual Thank Offering meeting, November 7 at 12:30 p.m.

The program will be preceded by a dessert-tea at no charge, with the hope that a more generous contribution to the needs of the world may be given for the thank offering, a U.P.W. spokesman pointed out.

The offering, taken by all Presbyterian women throughout the United States, will go for the three boards of the U.P.W.

The theme is "How Many Times Three," with moneys earmarked for the Board of Christian Education project "Operation Equalize," which helps pre-school and pre-college children and students in educationally and economically deprived areas in our own country.

The National Mission Board money will go for many different projects, including chaplains for Appalachian Regional Hospitals, educational counseling and scholarships, a community foundation in the southeast and other needs.

The third board, the Commission of Ecumenical Missions and Relations, will use its money for a new surgical ward at the Miraj Medical Center in India and for leadership development, under which leaders may be trained for various positions of Christian leadership throughout the world.

Those participating in the program of praise, as prepared by Mrs. Dorothy Thuener, World Service chairman, and Mrs. Betty Sheets, program chairman, will be Mmes. Eileen Barkman, Isabelle Eichen, Leah House and Marie Edmison.

A duet will be sung by Mrs. Kay Mattson and Mrs. Marjorie Tweedie, accompanied by Mrs. Fran Dethlefsen.

Mrs. Shirley Pappas, president, extended an invitation to all women. Regular U.P.W. meetings are held on the first Tuesday of each month. Mrs. Pappas expressed her gratitude to the U.P.W. members who have given time and interest to various volunteer services in the community.

"Many of the women have been working in the Mental Health Center and the Kaffee Klatch programs of C.I.T.Y.," she explained, while others have been making studies and seeking ways "in which their Christian concern and love may best be used for the betterment of the community."

Daly City TEENS

Activity schedules will be mailed to Know Names Junior Teen Club members within a few days. This season of activities are the most unusual and exciting to ever be offered by the Daly City Department of Recreation.

The annual Snow Trip will again be held for all the Junior Teen Clubs and also a City-Wide Symphony will be among the special inter-club events.

Events scheduled only for the Know Names will be dances with local bands performing, ice-skating, a movie and many other surprise activities. There is still time to join one of the popular Junior Teen Clubs and not miss one of the fun events to come. Applications and membership fees will be accepted at all of the next Junior Teen functions, or you may send to the Daly City Department of Recreation for all necessary forms.

The Casualties' Teen Club at Colma Intermediate School held a Band Dance featuring the group, "The Vertical Hold," October 20.

Students turned up in large numbers to hear the band and their very promising lead singer, Yvett Ah Po. Accompanying her were Jeff Carr, tambourine, Bob Ferrari, base guitar, Pete Bagden, lead guitar, and Ralph Damato, rhythm guitar.

The group featured such songs as "Give Me Some Kind of Sign" and "Skate Now."

The club's next event will be ice skating in San Francisco.

The Westside Teen Club, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, started the school year with a dance featuring "The Esquires."

This was a membership dance; for admission, it was necessary to take a dollar and a picture.

The dollar paid for a year's membership and from then on admission is just 50 cents with the membership card.

Miss Zakovia is the guest of her mother — Mrs. Gladvy — in a three-week visit to this country. Party featured variety of costumes, dancing, group singing, games and refreshments. (Post Photo)

Pacifica TEENS

The Teen drop-in, called "The Happening," sponsored by the Park, Beach and Recreation Department, is open to all high school students of Pacifica.

"The Happening" meets every Friday night, from 8 to 11:30 p.m. at Oddstad Park. Membership is free with teen card or application form.

Recently-held teen dance at Oceana High School, conducted by PBR was a big success. With over 200 teen-agers attending the dance, the music for the evening was provided by "The Fresh Water Blues Band."

Teen Co-Rec still is wondering where all the girls are, during Teen-Co-Rec, held at Terra Nova Gym on second and fourth Monday nights. The next Teen Co-Rec will be held Monday from 7-9 p.m. Membership is free with Teen Card or application form.

The next J-Teen Council meeting will be held November 7 at Sharp Park School, from 7-8 p.m.

A J-Teen Record Hop will be held at San Andreas School, November 9, from 7 to 9 p.m. Some of the activities during the evening will be a door prize, contests, refreshments and a dance contest. The fees for the evening will be members 25 cents and guests 50 cents.

The Los Pacificans, sponsored by the Park, Beach and Recreation Department journeyed to Carmel under the leadership of John and Bessie Attentia.

The bus ride included Monte-

TEMPLE EVENT

The Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel is sponsoring a "Getting to Know You" evening at the Templehouse November 11.

Cocktails at 7 and dinner at 8 and an auction will complete the evening.

'Back-to-School' Night For Benj. Franklin Parent

Benjamin Franklin P-TA recently launched its 1967-68 season with a luncheon for the teachers and a panel discussion.

The meeting November 6 will be Back-to-School Night.

Parents are invited to visit classrooms and hear teachers describe the year's program.

After a short business meeting in the multi-use room at 7:30 p.m., parents will follow their children's schedules, which will be compressed in 10 minute periods.

During the evening orders may be placed for sweat shirts with Ben Franklin insignia.

Parents are reminded to take their membership envelopes to the meeting.

Garden Village P-TA Meeting Thursday Night

The Garden Village Unit of the P-TA will hold its annual "Meet Your Teacher" night at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Cub Scout Den 3 of Pack 250 will present the colors to open the meeting in the multi-use room of the school.

Mrs. Glenn Ullom, president, will conduct a business session.

After a welcome to parents by Principal Glenn Forcum, the meeting will adjourn to the separate classrooms, where faculty members will explain their curricula for the year and answer questions from parents pertinent to the classwork in general.

The purpose of this program is to give parents an insight into their children's studies and school activities. For this reason it is suggested that the children remain at home.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN

Coast Slate Listed

The Pacifica Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold tonight's meeting at the Oceana High School Library.

The members and guests will gather at 7:30 for coffee, and at 8, Luther Spraker, well-known San Mateo County artist, will speak on prints and print making.

This is the second in Pacifica Branch's series on conservation in all its forms. This conservation of self and sanity will be highlighted by displays of members' endeavors to counteract the monotony of sticky fingerprints and pre-school prattle.

There will be suggestions and invitations to join with others in the group in exploring mind-expanders in literature, art, architecture, crafts, and environmental heritage under the aegis of this year's study on Society's Reflections in the Arts.

The theme of conservation, this time of children, will continue in January featuring the Children's Home Society; February, Conservation of Open Spaces; March, Conservation of Shoreline; April, Conservation of Time and Energy.

In December the group will hold its annual Fellowships auction at the Pacifica Library — handmade holiday ornaments and foods will be sold to provide Pacifica's share of the AAUW Fellowships Fund.

Every year the American Association of University Women awards 52 fellowships to women in the U.S. who are in the process of writing their doctoral dissertation.

In addition, there are approximately 30 Fellowships awarded to women in other countries for graduate study or research in the USA. The purpose of these International Fellowships is to provide advanced training for women of outstanding ability who will give effective service and constructive leadership upon return to their country.

The 26,966 women members of the California State Division contributed $125,525.86 to the Fellowships Fund in 1966-67. Membership in AAUW is open to any woman who holds a degree from a four-year college; call Mrs. Lynn Buchanan, 359-1052, for membership information.

The Pacifica Branch welcomes all interested members of the community to their general meetings (even men).

Students View 'The War Game'

The 200 Westmoor students, accompanied by Mrs. Sue Curtis, Garrett Kellard, Dexter Leland, Paul Zimmerman and Al Wolf, journeyed to the Surf Theater in San Francisco to see the controversial movie, "The War Game."

The movie was about an atomic attack on Great Britain. China had invaded South Vietnam and President Johnson retaliated by using tactical nuclear weapons. Russia's reaction to this was to increase her forces in Eastern Europe and close Berlin. The closing of Berlin brought about a war in Europe in which the U.S. employed "Honest John," a thermonuclear rocket. Russia responded with an ICBM on Britain. The remainder of the movie was about the after-effects of an atomic blast.

The general comment after the movie was summed up by Gary Anibale when he stated, "I'd rather kill myself than live if I were to survive a nuclear attack."

The B.B.C. movie "The War Game" had been turned down by every San Francisco theater except the Surf Theater and they booked it for only two weeks, as there is much controversy about showing the public what would happen if a World War III broke out as a result of the Vietnam War.

Discussions after the movie generally ended with the conclusion that everybody should see this movie to be aware how dangerous a nuclear war would be. A local reviewer called it a memorable production whose accuracy of prediction has not been challenged.

Poles Puzzle Pacifica

By WILL THOMAS

The City of Pacifica, described by one man as progressing too rapidly to solve a somewhat curious puzzle that centers around a dozen or more utility poles, placed in the middle of the new Palmetto Avenue sidewalks.

Dick Greenley, city office engineer, attempted to explain why it happened at Wednesday's city council meeting:

There was just no other place to put the poles.

He noted there is no utility easement in back of the sidewalks and the street is in front of it—leaving only the concrete (some were yet to be poured) walkways for said pole placement.

Consulting City Engineer Bill Chapman, said talks already had begun with PG&E concerning re-location, if it's possible.

The first complaint last week on the subject, which had been a Pacifica talk-about for over a week, came from Ray Logan, a candidate for a council vacancy to be voted upon November 14.

Logan called spending Improvement District funds for the "monstrosity" a "crime," and a "piece of foolishness."

Greenley termed the sidewalk area as "the only possible location for the poles."

Councilman Rick Wallis, a civil engineer with 37 years' experience, noted that the freeway came before the city did any real planning on Palmetto.

Councilman Nick Gust wondered why the poles were not placed uniformly in the walks.

Greenley noted that a storm drainage system was placed beneath the sidewalks because "numerous" water and sewer lines were under the street and there wasn't room for another.

This meant, he pointed out, that utility firm crewmen had to avoid the underground drains.

In the pole re-location project required because of street improvement "two or three" poles had to be staggered, Greenley explained.

An Ocean Park Home Owners' representative, George Trigliano, said he thought the Laguna Salada Elementary School District would grant an easement for pole re-location.

(The Sharp Park Elementary School borders Palmetto Avepue, and many of the objectionable poles are located in the middle of walkways used by pupils.)

He also wanted to know about the fireplugs — "at least one" — in the middle of the new walks.

Trigliano described one instance of where — he said — a fence is "six inches from one sidewalk and six inches beyond that is a fire hydrant," which he didn't really think anyone could get to even with a garden hose.

"What happens to all the money spent?" he asked again.

"Someone's got to answer for it," he insisted.

"Isn't there someone not doing his job," Trigliano suggested.

Logan came on again, wondering why "fire hydrants have to be placed in the middle of an eight-foot sidewalk?"

Logan wanted the council to take some direct steps to halt further concrete work until the pole bit could be resolved.

Chapman commented he had "just directed" Greenley to have the contractor omit concrete work near poles that obviously have been placed improperly.

Richard Passafiume, who had thought himself in the contest for councilman but was declared ineligible on a technicality after filing, declared that one of Pacifica's problems was "trying to progress too fast."

Soph, Parent Night Slated

Crestmoor High School P-TA will present a special program geared to the sophomore parents on Wednesday, November 1, at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Driver training, insurance, community safety and narcotics are items of interest on the agenda for this evening.

Principal George Kristovich will be moderator with his panel of vice principal of educational services Stewart Diamond; vice principal of student services Mrs. Florence Hoeck, and Frank Robinson, safety and education chairman.

He asserted the community was attempting to become "too high-toned" too rapidly, pointing out that "this is a working man's town."

"Slow down," he urged.

"Leave us not be in too much of a hurry to make this a 'luxury town," Passafiume said. Lee Forrester, a planning commission member, countered with that while Pacifica is a working man's town, that doesn't mean the working man doesn't want to live in an aesthetically pleasant area.

JEFFERSON HIGH

Class Loads Are Beneath State Average

Jefferson High School District classes average 26.1 pupils each, a report to trustees of the Daly City-Pacifica system points out.

In relation to some 16 other districts that fall into the same average daily attendance (ADA) category in the state, the Jefferson figure was the lowest.

According to Dr. Harold C. Tonini, assistant district superintendent for instruction, who gleaned the statistics from a California Teachers' Association's research bulletin, the average state classload, in districts ranging from 4,999, 4,000 to 9,999 enrollment was 27.8.

As the district size increased in California the average load per classroom jumped somewhat to 28.5 in 11 districts with ADA's of from 10,000 to 25,000.

The category immediately below that in which Jefferson falls, the 2,000 to 3,999 ADA, showed a classroom population average of 26.4, however, while the figure dropped to 24.2 in the 500 to 999 enrollment districts and 20.4 in the 26 districts that had less than 500 students.

The average for all high school district classes was 27.7. In summaries prepared recently for the four Jefferson District schools, Pacifica's Oceana High showed the best classload — for all departments — with a 26.25 average.

This compares with the "close second" recorded for Jefferson

High in Daly City, which was listed at 26.84; Terra Nova's 27.82 and Westmoor's 28.81.

As could be expected, the physical education classes at all district schools had the largest average load.

District business classes ranked second highest at Jefferson, Terra Nova and Westmoor High Schools, while fine arts and social science classes gained that standing at Oceana.

The figures: In Jefferson High's business classes, 28.12—928 students; at Oceana, fine arts, 27.93 and social science, 27.62; at Terra Nova in Pacifica, business 30.79 and foreign language 29; at Westmoor, business, 30.13 and mathematics, 29.51.

Tonini noted the lowest average loads to be:

At Jefferson — industrial arts, 23.35 and homemaking, 23.40; at Oceana — foreign language, 23.38 and homemaking, 24; at Terra Nova — homemaking, 24.53 and English, 25; at Westmoor — foreign language, 26.03 and homemaking 26.83.

Tonini pointed out, however, that individual class sizes range from — for example — 14 to 34 in social science and 19-35 in English at Westmoor; 10 to 52 in fine arts and 22 to 40 in business at Terra Nova; 13-89 in English and 18-29 in industrial arts at Oceana, and 16 to 27 in homemaking and 13-36 in mathematics at Jefferson.

Millions OK'd For Highway

The State Highway Commission last week approved a whopping $25.2 million in highway funds to finance San Mateo County's state highway system during the 1968-69 fiscal year.

The bulk of the money, some $15.5 million was specified for construction and improvements of the Junipero Serra Freeway from Santa Clara County to San Francisco.

Another $8.6 million was approved for right of way purchases along various routes in the county. No specific projects were designated for the right of way funds.

The Junipero Serra funding calls for $5.4 million to complete financing of the section from Page Mill Road to Woodside Road. Some $3.2 million will extend the freeway from Woodside to San Mateo Creek Bridge and $6 million to extend the route to Arroyo Drive in South San Francisco.

Landscaping along the route will cost $960,000.

Other projects budgeted include $152,000 for divider planting along Bayshore Freeway from Santa Clara County to Hillsdale Boulevard, $120,000 to resurface Crystal Springs Road between Junipero Serra and El Camino Real and $735,000 to widen Sand Hill Road to four lanes between Junipero Serra and Santa Cruz Avenue in Menlo Park.

Athletic Pay Under Study

Cabrillo Unified Teachers Association was given its annual recognition as the official representative organization of the district's certified personnel by the Cabrillo Unified School District board of trustees last week.

The recognition is required by the Winton Act. CUTA represents 100 of the 113 district certified personnel, which includes teachers, counselors, psychologists, librarians, etc.

SSF Routs Jeff, Oceana Over TN

Upset Win For Oceana

Momentum may well be the deciding factor in the upcoming South San Francisco-Westmoor title clash and, if so, the Warriors must be installed favorites to take the crown.

Erupting for the second consecutive week, after beating the Terra Nova Tigers, 69-13, the Warriors blasted hapless Jefferson High School, 55-0, to run their league record to 3-0-0. They have scored 151 points and allowed but 13 in conference action.

In other NPL action Oceana surprised Terra Nova, 14-0.

Gaining touchdowns in every possible legal manner, the Warriors tied an NPL record of 38 points in one quarter they set just last week and, despite the fact not one player gained over 70 yards on offense, completely dominated the offensive as well as the defensive game.

Russ Cottrell, the leading ground-gainer with 67 yards in seven tries, broke loose for two long punt returns to head the potent Warrior attack. The high-scoring senior tailback gave the Warriors all the points they actually needed in the opening minutes of the second period when he raced 51 yards for the first score after a punt.

Before intermission quarterback Willie Ergas found tight end Alex Smith for a 21 yard scoring toss. But the Warriors came out of the dressing room dissatisfied with their opening half performance and proceeded to wrap up the game with a high-powered attack.

Fullback Mike Heaney ran over the first third-quarter score from the 17 and was followed closely by Ed Aguilar's seven-yard run for the second td. Then Cottrell busted loose on another punt return score, this one from 75 yards out, and Mario Bernardini ended the 12-minute spree with a four-yarder.

Meanwhile, All-League halfback Joe Nuttal tallied twice for the Sharks, underdogs before the game, and led Oceana to its shutout victory.

Nuttal scored in the first period on a six-yard run and then scampered in from the 10 in the second period to cap the day's scoring.

The Tigers may have lost more than the game when end Bob Achziger, the league's leading scorer until yesterday, tore tendons in his right knee in the fourth period and will be out for an indefinite period.

Blood 'n' Guts Win Over 'Flash'

BLOOD AND GUTS won out over flash and publicity last week when Marty Coil of Terra Nova High (where he was all-everything) and San Francisco State College (where he was all-hit) signed a contract to play baseball with the San Francisco Giants.

Coil was signed by Eddie Montague, who's known as the man who signed Willie Mays. Montague thinks that some day he may be known as the man who signed Willie Mays and Marty Coil. Montague, in other words, is high on Coil.

"I've never signed a kid with more hustle and desire," says Montague, to which he adds, shockingly, "and that includes Willie Mays."

The latter statement doesn't seem so preposterous when one checks the stories on Coil.

MARTY WAS AN ALL AROUND ATHLETE at Terra Nova. One of the things he did very well was play end on the football team. He looked like almost a cinch to make all-league at that position in his senior year, but Coach Gene McKamey was desperate for quarterbacks, so he did what any other coach in his situation would have done.

He asked his best football player to volunteer to play quarterback. Marty Coil volunteered and sacrificed his all-league chances.

At that, he still might have made it if Westmoor didn't have a boy playing quarterback that year named Bruce Hix (also now a Giant signee). Coil finished second in NPL passing statistics to Bruce that year.

WHEN MARTY DECIDED he wanted to be a professional baseball player, he was told he was too slow. So he did a very simple thing. He began running. Nothing fancy, just running running, everywhere, all the time, all out. Montague now calls him, "fast for a big man."

Marty was told he had power, but that he "dragged" his bat, swept rather than jerked it into the ball. So Marty began practicing his swing. He carried a bat with him and swung it wherever it was legal to swing a bat.

Talk to him during his after-school job in the Terra Nova locker room and he'd be swining a ruler or a stick, or anything 32-35 inches long and solid — including freshmen who stood still in one spot too long.

Recently he wanted to take some batting practice in Pacifica, so he bought a dozen brand new baseballs — to jerk, not sweep at — out of his own pocket.

Montague said, "Now he's just clobbering the ball." (He led State in hitting last year, .350, has been close to .500 all this winter in the Touch Peninsula League).

Marty's father, Ralph, says, "Marty's the only 22 year-old I ever met who takes a bat to bed with him."

YOU GET THE IDEA. Coil loves baseball. But he's no fool. He was drafted this spring, but refused the Giants' offer. He was given another offer recently, and refused it again. Finally, Montague walked up to Coil after a Peninsula League game and said, "Marty, tell me what you want?" Coil told him and Montague said "You got it."

While the amount of the bonus, naturally, has not been announced, you can guess it wasn't a Louisville Slugger and a dozen new baseballs.

Because of his versatility (he's a slick fielding first baseman but has caught and played short, third and the outfield capably, and also has impressed as a spud pitcher with his powerful arm — which he developed on his own) Montague envisions him as a Jimmy Diven port type — a big Jimmy Davenport. At 6-3, 190, Coil's still filling out.

"WITH MARTY'S DETERMINATION, I don't see how he can miss," says Montague. "This is an example of what you might call a late bloomer. He was always a good ball player, but not the kind scouts really hung around. But we had a hunch about him and put him on our rookie team in his mid-teens. Now there are scouts around who are figuring maybe they were wrong."

"Not a year has gone by that he hasn't improved. In fact, the last two years in his development have been phenomenal. I've never seen any player improve so rapidly over a like period of time. Especially as a hitter. Dutch Anderson, our Peninsula League manager, helped Marty a lot by letting him go up there and rip at the ball — too many kid teams nowadays play so-called "inside" baseball, which is why there are no hitters around anymore — but Marty still did much of it on his own."

Coil will train with the big team at Casa Grande in the spring, but is signed to a Fresno (Class A) contract.

Marty Coil is big and strong, has talent and desire, intelligence and mental toughness. He's also got a sense of humor, which will stand him in good stead on those rocky bus rides, and is a talker, which is good for everybody on boring road trips.

BUT probably Coil's most valuable attribute is his little-boy's enthusiasm and awe for The Game. When the gabby Coil signed his contract he said something to Montague which Eddie says has hardly ever been said to him by a kid he's signed:

"Thank you."

MONTAGUE, incidentally, thinks that any kid with some talent in baseball is foolish not to give the profession a try.

"With baseball expanding the way it is," he says, "within the next few years triple A hangers-on will become established major leaguers. And you can't beat the pension plan, even if you can put in only five years... which any decent ballplayer with some desire should be able to do once the leagues expand to 12 teams."

RICH BURT, Terra Nova vice principal and former coach, was musing over his "track record" with potential great athletes, and recalled that he once coached Tug McGraw, the fine young Met pitcher, at St. Vincent's High.

"Yeah, if it wasn't for me, Tug never would have made the majors. When I had him he was an outfielder. I cut him from the varsity and demoted him to the JV's. That was the turning point in his career. The priest who coached the JV's made him into a pitcher."

Then, recalling that he had also once coached Coil: "I hope Marty makes it. I really helped him, too. I was his basketball coach."

Recreation Activities

SLOW-PITCH

The Blivitts picked up their third win against one defeat in the recreation department-sponsored Sunday Adult Slow Pitch Softball League as they rolled over Corpus Christi 19-9 at Westmoor Park.

In the only other game played, the Flying Goose Tornados trimmed the Flame Throwers, 11-10, behind the hitting and fielding of Fred Bell, Chuck McGuigan, Randy Wilcox and Ray Cook. The Starlight Hobbrau team leads the League with a 3-0 mark.

FLAG BALL

The League-leading Abraham Lincoln Pioneers romped past the Westlake School Seagulls 52-26 for their second consecutive league victory in the recreation department's Pacific Coast Conference playground Flag Football League.

The Daniel Webster Colts continued their winning streak as they walloped the Olympia School Raiders, 42-0, behind four touchdowns scoring of Perry Fox.

The Vista Mar Madmen ramblasted past the Westmoor Park Winners, 47-13, in a non-conference tilt.

BIG FIVE

The George Washington Scramblers picked up their first league win in the Daly City Recreation Department's Big Five Conference Flag Football League as they rallied to a 24-12 victory over the Jeff Elementary Cowboys on the winner's field.

The Madmen lead the loop.

THE MIDGETS

The Calvary Cross Crusaders won their first game of the season in the Daly City Recreation Department sponsored Midget Division Flag Football League as they defeated the PAL Tigers, 20-7, behind three touchdowns of Ken Bettencourt.

The PAL Cubs picked up their third win in a row as they walloped the previously unbeaten PAL Bears 43-6.

The Holy Angels Raiders remained undefeated as they tripped the BYA Forney Comets 32-19.

THE JUNIORS

The BYA Hustlers continued their domination of the Daly City Recreation Department's Junior Division Flag Football League as they whitewashed the Daly City Chiefs for their second win in a row. Jim Macchi scored 3 touchdowns, Greg Bodmer and Jim Volente one each to lead the Holy Angels Avengers to a surprising 34-20 win.

Westmoor C's, D's Swamped

The Westmoor C and D basketball teams lost to both Jefferson and South San Francisco squads last week.

Jeff rolled over the Rams D's by 35-23, October 24.

The Ram 20's lost their championship hopes when they lost to the top lightweight club, Jefferson.

October 26 was equally as dismal for the Rams as the South San Francisco D's beat them, 56-40, and the Ram C's lost one in overtime, 49-48.

Jeff 'C' Cagers Cinch the Title

For the second straight year the Jefferson High C's basketball team has taken the championship.

Last year's crown came as some surprise to Mic Kelly's squad—but this year there is no doubt.

So far Kelly's cagers have an undefeated record of 8-0.

Prior to its most recent victory, the closest team had a record of 4-3, allowing the Indians the chance to lose the rest of its games yet take the title with only a tie possible.

But with last week's 48-42 victory over El Camino, the Indians clinched it.

The Jeff team still must surpass Oceana, which proved to be little trouble previously, and South San Francisco, which gave Jeff a good game in the first round.

"The team is on top this year," says Kelly, "because the team has good ball players who work great as a unit."

Alpineer Ski

Swap Is Set

November 11

The tenth annual Alpineer Club Ski Swap will be held in the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park on November 11 from 12 noon until 10 p.m.

Thousands of items of winter sports equipment and gear, new and used, will be on the block according to Chairman Rene Giger of San Carlos, who has staged the event for the club members for the past nine years.

Anyone who has equipment for sale can make arrangements with the club to put it for disposal, according to Mrs. Giger.

Joyce Kyle will be the hostess at the swap. There will be entertainment, including ski movies, folk dancing and singing, and acrobatics. Ski shops will have exhibits of their latest gear, and top ski resorts of Northern California and Nevada will have booths. Admission is $1 for adults, and children free when accompanied by an adult.

JEFF D'S WIN

The Jefferson High School D basketball team last week defeated Westmoor, 37-23, and El Camino D's, 35-31, to give it second-place ranking behind South San Francisco High.

'Will of People' Thwarted by Re-apportionment, Says GOP Chief Halley

By JAMES W. HALLEY
Republican State Chairman

An entire decade of Republican opportunity was adversely affected by the action of the Democratic dominated 1961 Legislature. District lines were so established that unfairly advantaged one political party.

For those who might question this political truth, the following facts should be noted: In 1962, Republican candidates for Congress received 48.1 percent of the total vote cast, and they won only 34.2 percent of the Congressional seats. The Democrats won two-thirds of the seats with slightly over one-half of the votes cast. In 1966, Republican candidates carried 53.1 percent of all the votes cast for Congress in California, and they won only 44.7 percent of the Congressional seats.

The statistics regarding Assembly elections for the years 1962 and 1966 are an even greater indictment. In 1962, Democrats won 52 seats in the Assembly with 54 percent of the vote; and in 1966, Republicans won only 38 seats in the Assembly with a similar 54 percent of the total vote cast statewide for all assembly candidates.

As though one apportionment per decade was not enough, California Assembly and State Senate seats were reapportioned in 1965 pursuant to court order. This fall, following rulings of the United States Supreme Court, the Supreme Court of the State of California in the cases of Silver vs. Reagan, et al. and Vicker vs. Reagan, et al. ordered reapportionment of California's 38 Congressional districts.

This is an additional unfortunate step in implementation of the "One Man, One Vote" rule first enunciated by the U.S. Supreme Court in 1962. The inexorable force of judicial compulsion has thwarted the declared will of the people of California and has hopelessly enmeshed the courts in the "political thicket."

No better illustration of the entanglement in the web of politics is apparent than the instant decision. Two practical applications of the court's language make this most apparent.

FIFTEEN PERCENT STANDARD. The court, in alluding to a 15 percent allowable standard, said, "We believe that preserving the stability of existing districts for the two remaining elections that will be governed by the 1960 census is a sufficient basis to retain districts that do not deviate by more than 15 percent. Accordingly, the Legislature should be free, if it wishes, to retain as many of such existing districts that it is possible to retain consistently with correcting greater than 15 percent deviations."

Top String Quartet In Free Recital

The Netherlands String Quartet, acclaimed "the finest string quartet in Europe," returns to the Bay Area where it often has performed successfully. The concert is on Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. on November 5 in the Creative Arts Auditorium at San Francisco State College on the Artists' Series fall program. The recital is free to the public.

The program is: Haydn's Opus 33, No. 2 ("The Joke"), Schubert's Opus 29 ("Rosamunde"), Shostakovich's No. 1; and Wolf's Italian Serenade.

The players include Nap De Kliff, first violin; Jaap Schroder, second violin; Paul Godwin, viola; and Carel Boomkamp, cello. The Netherlands String Quartet made its first Amsterdam appearance in 1952; its first American tour was in 1958.

The group has made frequent returns to this country and, in 1962, was awarded the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Memorial Medal and given accolade of "Finest." In the summer of 1964 it was called to the Colorado music festival and school in Aspen as artists-in-residence.

The next Chamber Music Center program is scheduled for January 14. The Repertory Musicians of San Francisco will be featured in a special concert which will explore musical literature for various combinations of voice and instruments, according to Ferenc Molnar, Professor Music and Director of the Center.

Honey Glaze For Spareribs

Fifteen Minute Spareribs — Honey Glaze. Pre-cook serving portions of spareribs for 12 minutes, using pressure cooker. Remove from cooker and brush lightly with honey. Sprinkle with barbecue spice. Broil until crisp.

Thus, our State Supreme Court has compelled adjustments of districts that deviate by more than 15 percent (there are 9 such districts in California). In turn, some additional districts may have to be affected in order to bring the nine nonconforming districts within normal (15 percent or under) range. However, it is patently obvious that not all boundaries need be adjusted to accomplish this result.

If we accept the premise that reapportionment is being forced upon our State, actual redistricting should not go beyond the fiat of court.

POWER OF VETO. The California Supreme Court in Silver vs. Brown (1965—Legislative Reapportionment) established temporary apportionment plans for both the State Senate and Assembly which were to "become effective only if the Legislature failed to enact valid plans of its own." Thus, in 1965, Governor Brown, in consti-all interested knew the plan that would come into existence if a bill was not passed.

The same court in 1967 made a similar order compelling reapportionment but reserved the right to "order into effect a plan it deems appropriate." The difference is apparent: In 1965, Governor Brown, in constiuse of a veto, could compare a bill with maps prepared by court. In 1967, Governor Reagan has no such privilege; he has no way of knowing the nature of an unannounced court plan.

These are but two of the consequences of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States to compel the "political thicket" and to deal with a matter traditionally reserved to the legislative halls. The difference of a few census tracts, a few blocks and a few voters in specific districts can make the difference between victory and defeat. Thus, the coming days in Sacramento are important for the Republican Party, reasonable treatment

It is our hope that the Legislature acts well in the interest of all the people of the State of California. If reapportionment is done fairly and reasonably, the Republican Party with its substantial momentum today will do well. We believe that the people are entitled to fair and reasonable treatment.

Survey Shows Little Promiscuity Among Students at California, Stanford

Contrary to popular stereotypes, there's little sexual promiscuity among college students, a four-year study at Stanford and the University of California at Berkeley shows. "Sexual intimacy, where it occurs, takes place in the context of a relationship that is serious rather than casual," says Dr. Joseph Katz of the Stanford Institute for the Study of Human Problems. "Students' interest in the opposite sex has physical contact as only one component. Establishing more communicative relations often is uppermost on their conscious agenda." Depth interviews with a cross-section of nearly 200 students at the two Bay Area institutions showed that slightly more than one third of the men (37 per cent) and one fourth of the women (24 per cent) had experienced sexual intercourse by the middle of their junior year. These findings are in general accord with several other studies of college-age populations, according to Katz, who was a contributor to the recent study on "Sex and the College Student" by the Group for Advancement of Psychiatry. Date Not at All "There are fairly large numbers of students — roughly a third of the men and a quarter of the women — who seem to date little or not at all even as college seniors," he notes. "In spite of the very favorable male-female ratio at Stanford, over a fifth of the women students seem to have no dates taken for granted. Even larger proportions approve of premarital sex and even abortion. Commenting on the relationship of sex and morality, as seen by students, Katz says: "By their senior year, about half (45 to 83 per cent) of the know each other for a protracted period of time before engaging in intercourse. "Their relationship is a meaningful one. Often the partners seriously think of marriage and do get married. "If there has been a shift in sexual morality, which is difficult to determine in the absence of sufficient data from earlier decades, it means not so much a decline in moral codes as a "For large segments of college youth, premarital sex is consistent with morality and behavior ruled by principles of responsibility and concern for others. "This thesis is supported by the distinction students make between premarital and extra-marital sex. Acceptance of the latter was much lower, presumably because of moral principle — fidelity — was violated. Two-thirds of the women and half the men "go steady" during college, and a quarter of the women and one-seventh of the men have been engaged. Around 10 per cent of the men and women are married before graduation. Agree About Children Men and women agree about the number of children they expect to have, with about two-thirds seeking two or three children. Very few desire smaller families, and only one in five seek a family of four or more. About three fourths of the men and women expect the wife to work full-time before there are children, and a similarly large majority do not expect the wife to work while the children are under six years old. About half do not expect the wife to work when the children are aged six to 12. But when the children are older, 45 per cent of the women expect to work full-time and 42 per cent part-time, and the men tend to agree. When asked who they'd prefer to have priority in decision making, 82 per cent of the women said their husbands — but only 60 per cent of the men agreed. "More women expect their husbands to have control than there are men willing to assume it," Katz notes. Asked who made the decisions in their family, a majority of students said important decisions were usually made by both their parents acting together. About a third of the men and a fifth of the women said that important decisions were usually made by their father alone. Changed Views When asked whether their moral, religious, and political views had changed in college, about a quarter of the seniors said they had changed a lot in college. But a more static picture emerged when students were asked about the importance of various activities to themselves response from the same group, personally. The similarities in questioned both as freshmen and as seniors, are "striking," Katz notes. "Career, family love and affection, and developing a personal identity are ranked highest by freshmen and seniors alike. "Participation in activities directed toward civic, national, or international improvement, religious activities, and helping other people are ranked low by freshmen and seniors alike," even though both Stanford and Berkeley students are among the highest in the nation for various kinds of volunteer work. "No change is indicated toward an outlook that stresses other people, beyond the student's immediate surrounding and self-improvement," he comments. "The greatest increase is in regard to the importance of intellectual and artistic activities. Still only a quarter of the men and a third of the women rank intellectual activities high after four years exposure to academic life. Accept Impulse "We find a trend toward a greater acceptance of impulse, a relaxation of rigid or punitive controls, and greater assertion of independence. "There also is less of a tendency to self-blame and greater readiness to look for objective conditions, rather than magic or moralizing, in accounting for malfunctioning, failure, and destructiveness. "Even though for many students certain values remain quite stable," Katz concludes, "there may be quite a difference in the ways in which these values are held. "Students may maintain the same general orientation and yet be much more tolerant and flexible in the way in which they express it."

Brunch on Eggs Cloaked in Ham

Change those old brunch habits with a hefty innovation—cheese-topped eggs cloaked in ham. How welcome they'll be as nippy weather quickens family appetites! In this Borden Kitchen version, ham slices are wrapped jelly-roll style about hard-boiled egg halves, then covered by a margarine-milk sauce spiced with parsley flakes and mustard. Crest with handy vera-sharp cheese slices, bake, and serve hot.

Cheese-Topped Eggs Rolled in Ham

(Makes 6 servings)

- |                                              |                                                                                   |
|----------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1/4 cup new Danish margarine or butter       | 1/4 teaspoon salt                                                                 |
| 1/4 cup flour                                | 6 hard-cooked eggs, shelled                                                       |
| 2 cups homogenized milk                      | 6 thin slices boiled ham                                                          |
| 1 teaspoon Wyle's de-hydrated parsley flakes | 8 slices (one 6-oz. package) Vera-Sharp brand pasteurized process American cheese |
| 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard                     |                                                                                   |

In a medium-size saucepan, melt butter or margarine over medium-low heat; gradually blend in flour. Remove from heat. Slowly add milk; stir constantly. Return to heat. Cook mixture over medium heat about 5 minutes, or until thick and smooth; stir constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in parsley flakes, mustard and salt; set aside. Slice each egg in half lengthwise. Place two halves with narrow ends touching, cut side down, on the shorter end of a ham slice. Roll each jelly-roll fashion. Place rolls in a shallow 1-1/4-quart casserole. Pour sauce evenly over rolls. Top with cheese slices. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven 30 minutes. Serve hot as a luncheon or supper dish, or for brunch.

Chocolate Mint Pie Is 'Novel'

For a dessert that pleases everyone, the Borden Kitchen offers this Chocolate Mint Pie made with ease from sweetened condensed milk. Blend milk and unsweetened chocolate, add mint extract, then fold in heavy cream. When it's time for serving, lattice the top with whipped cream and proudly present the pie.

Chocolate Mint Pie

(Makes one 9-inch pie)

- |                                                                           |                                         |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|
| 1 (9-inch) pastry shell, baked and cooled                                 | 2 (1-oz.) squares unsweetened chocolate |
| 1-1/3 cups (one 15-oz. can) Borden's Eagle Brand sweetened condensed milk | 1/4 teaspoon salt                       |
|                                                                           | 1/4 cup hot water                       |
|                                                                           | 1/2 teaspoon mint extract               |
|                                                                           | 1 cup heavy cream                       |

In the top of a double boiler, combine sweetened condensed milk, chocolate and salt. Cook over rapidly boiling water; stir constantly, until mixture is very thick. Gradually add water; stir to keep mixture smooth. Continue to cook 2 to 5 minutes, or until mixture thickens again. Stir frequently. Remove from heat. Stir in mint extract. Chill mixture in refrigerator or over ice water until cool. Whip 1/2 cup of the heavy cream until thick; fold into the cooled chocolate mixture. Pour into pastry shell. Chill in refrigerator about 4 hours. At serving time: Whip remaining 1/2 cup heavy cream. If desired, spoon over pie or pipe through a decorators' bag in a lattice design.

Tart-Sweet Sauce For Baked Ham

Tart-sweet mince meat makes the most of all meats—lamb, pork, or, as here, a magnificent baked ham. When sauced with mince meat and colorfully studded with cherry halves, a plain ham becomes precisely the party-perfect entrée a cook seeks when her thoughts turn to entertaining. Made the Borden Kitchen way—with mince meat ready right from the jar—even the hostess can find time to enjoy her own.

Baked Ham with Mince Meat Sauce

- |                                |                                                                    |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 (6-lb.) smoked ham, butt end | 1-1/3 cups (one-half 28-oz. jar) None Such ready-to-use mince meat |
| 1 (10-oz.) jar currant jelly   | 1/2 cup port wine, optional                                        |
|                                | Maraschino cherries, Whole cloves, optional                        |

Heat oven to hot (400°F.). Place ham on a large sheet of heavy aluminum foil; wrap tightly, folding ends securely. Place on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in hot (400°F.) oven 1 hour and 30 minutes or about 15 minutes per pound. In a small saucepan, mix well jelly, mince meat, and port wine. Cook over medium heat until mixture boils; stir occasionally until jelly is melted. (This will yield 2-2/3 cups sauce.) Remove ham from oven and unwrap carefully. Return unwrapped ham to rack in roasting pan. Lower oven temperature to slow (325°F.). With sharp knife score ham in a diamond pattern. If desired, secure a cherry half with a whole clove or food pick in each diamond. Spoon 1/3 of the mince meat sauce over ham. Return to oven; bake about 45 minutes or until glazed. While baking apply 2/3 cup sauce in two applications. Heat remaining mince meat sauce and serve with ham.

Deliciously Easy Snack for Party

Teenagers are sports lovers, music lovers, fun lovers — and pop corn lovers. You can combine all of these teen-age pleasures in one wonderful fun-filled "after-the-game" pop corn party. There are so many festive ways to use pop corn for parties — from gaily decorated pop corn balls to just plain heaping bowls of hot buttered popped corn. But here's a new, deliciously delectable party idea that's a groovy teen-age treat. It's a "pop corn pizza topping" that's easy to prepare — and easy to serve. You simply make a quick-cheese-pop corn and use as a topping, as illustrated, for To make the cheese pop corn:

To each two quarts of freshly popped corn (it should be hot) drizzle 1/4 cup of melted butter or margarine. Salt to taste. Mix well, sprinkle 3/4 cup of grated cheddar or parmesan cheese over the pop corn and mix. Sprinkle the cheese pop corn over the hot pizza and press into the top of the pizza, just before serving. And to add to the warm, jolly atmosphere, serve with mugs of

Things are relatively calm on the TN campus this week, the quiet after the storm of last Friday's Homecoming Day hulla-balloo.

Seniors were up bright and early that day to stage their own Homecoming parade in front of the school. Brunchtime saw and heard large groups of students yelling in class competition.

Festivities were kicked off officially by the first lunchtime rally to be held at TN. Pompon girls, cheerleaders, and the Forgotten Society performed to a capacity crowd in the cafeteria.

After the rally, the Homecoming Parade assembled in front of the school. It toured Linda Mar noisily with the Queen and her court at the head followed by gaily decorated cars and floats.

Terra Nova's loss to Oceana at the "Big Game" of the year was the afternoon's only let-down. But the Tigers sportingly relinquished the Anchor Trophy to the Sharks.

With a last burst of energy students and alumni attended the fourth annual Homecoming Dance that night in the festively decorated TN cafeteria.

Napoleon Murphy Brock Interesting Background

AFTER A SUCCESSFUL engagement at the Carrousel in Las Vegas, the Napoleon Five (Napoleon Murphy Brock, leader; John McDermott, drummer; Trinidad Rivera and Joe Sanchez, guitarists, and vocalist Janice Carole) are now adding plenty of spark to the hep show at Jack McRae and Phil Maita's Fireside Lounge, in San Mateo, along with an All-Girl Topless Revue. Napoleon, who received a college degree in psychology, worked three years at Pancho Linda School for Mentally Retarded Children, then joined the New Job Corps program working with underprivileged children and teen-agers. Having majored in music, entertainment was also considered a part of his life. He and a couple of fellow musicians worked local clubs, until talent and Lady Luck landed them a job touring the West Coast, Canada and Alaska, where he was to add lovely Janice Carole, a singer and dancer from Baltimore, Md., to the group. Appearing at the Fireside for a limited time only. Don't miss the "Amateur Topless Contest" every night at 1:30 a.m. A winner is selected each week, and is awarded a month's contract to appear at the Fireside, plus a free trip to Las Vegas. EXTRA ADDED ATTRACTION: "Living Color," a curvy girl whose body is completely covered with paint, performs five times nightly. The Napoleon Five sounds can be heard seven nights a week. Continuous entertainment, 9 p.m. till 2 a.m.

JACK BENNY, who opened last Thursday night in the South Shore Room at Harrah's Tahoe, is a constant delight with his unique sense of humor and graciousness. "I don't care who gets the laughs as long as there are laughs," is Benny's motto. With Benny is the Baja Marimba Band, the More-Landis Dancers, and Leigh-ton Noble and his orchestra. In the Stateline Cabaret are Duke Ellington, The Top Notchers, and Bob Brannan. Manager Marilyn McCullah features beer, billiards, and beautiful beer-maid at the Kat Patch II, the newest action center in Burlingame. Most any evening will find a long list of males waiting for the billiard tables. For tasty Mexican food to go, people are finding that Jim Llewellyn's El Patio Mexican restaurant, in Menlo Park, is almost incomparable. In short order, Chef Robert Ortiz prepares delightful Mexican dishes — and all you do is pick it up.

PHIL RAUSCHER, vice president of the corporation which operates the International Inn restaurant complex, now divides his time between his office in Daly City and the company's various restaurant outlets. Besides helping to guide the International Inn to restaurant prominence, Rauscher also had quite a hand in developing the company's newest location, Pepperwood Lodge, in Marin County. Located in the heart of the Santa Cruz mountains, within easy driving distance, the Brookdale Lodge (where the brook swirls through) comfortably seats 125 persons in the Redwood Room, with its massive natural stone fireplace and its own bar, or 100 persons for dancing. The main dining room can accommodate as many as 600 persons at one time. The "Lodge" provides a relaxing and undisturbed setting of natural beauty while dining.

STRIKING NANCY AMES, who first came to prominence in television as the singer on the satirical "That Was The Week That Was," will open a three week engagement in the Venetian Room of the Fairmont Hotel on Thursday, November 2. With a natural warmth that attracts people of all ages, Nancy includes in her repertoire many Latin-American favorites, jazz tunes and soft ballads. Recording artist Ed Ames is the current Venetian Room attraction. The Hall of Horns in Hayward is booked solidly on Saturday for the next few weeks. Johnny White's East Bay "party center" can accommodate up to 300 people at one time — for bowling banquets, company business functions, Rotary meetings and almost any fun-time get-together. The man to call for information is Bud Raap (783-6100).

CHEF BRUNO FAVA, a fabled culinary wizard, will offer a huge feast of chicken, polenta and Italian sausage for those attending the festive second anniversary of Bruno's, in downtown San Mateo, Wednesday night, November 1. Co-owner Tom Zucchielli, who counts his friends in the hundreds, will be on hand to act as official host. Antoine De Vos, maitre d' at Carrousel du Soleil, next to the Circle Star, is booking holiday parties into the luxurious new banquet room. Groups of 20 to 200 can be accommodated, but you better call him at 365-2926 now to avoid disappointment to your company or organization. Did you know that the cocktail lounge in Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant enjoys a brisk patronage as evidenced in the dining areas? Almost any afternoon will find various executives from the nearby offices gathered for a bit of relaxation.

THE WELLINGTON ROOM at Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco is so elegant and colorful that many diners ask permission to take color photos of it. Art Petri, owner of the L'Entrecote, in Hillsdale, is now taking reservations for his magnificent banquet rooms. Accommodating up to 150 people, the completely remodeled downstairs banquet facility is an ideal setting for the various social and business groups. Pretty Terry Ainsworth is another member of Lou Dapelo's Blue Peacock lounge crew who deserves mention. Terry is the vivacious lounge hostess. Judging from the admiring glances of patrons, her youthful attractiveness is just as appealing as Lou's famed evening "Happy Hours." Popular beginner of a gourmet dinner at Doros on San Francisco's Montgomery is their Prosciutto and melon, delicious Italian delivery.

Fred and Jerry Rapp's New Holiday Inn Menu

AN IMPRESSIVE NEW MENU was recently introduced by Fred and Jerry Rapp at their Holiday Inn, South San Francisco. Selections range from Tournedos of Beef "Rossini" to Filet Mignon "Royal Hall." Such seafood delights as Columbia River Salmon Steak, Fillet of Sole Meuniere, Jumbo Prawns, and Scallops are sure to prove popular with diners here. In these days of rising food costs, the attractive range of prices on the "Inn's" new menu is most pleasant to see. Fred Martinelli's recently-remodeled banquet facilities at his Olivers restaurant, famous for steaks and Italian dishes, can easily accommodate gatherings up to 70 people. Future bookings here read like a "Who's Who" of the Peninsula. Keep Oliver's in mind when planning special functions—large or small.

Villa Hotel Has Winning Combination

A winning combination difficult to match would be the three separate operations under the one roof at the Villa Hotel. The plush Upper Level "Just for Steaks" has become a huge favorite with discriminating dinner crowds who prefer steak and its complementing dishes; the Villa Lounge, featuring George Cerrutti and his Trio, is a romantic rendezvous for those seeking a relaxed atmosphere for dancing, and the Villa Coffee House is open 24 hours serving breakfast, lunch and dinner to those on tight schedules.

The secrets behind the fabulous success of these operations are many. Most of all, the management has applied a contemporary format to the running of the Villa Hotel — providing its guests with exactly what they want.

Low Lehr, the Steak Man in SF's Marina, had himself a golf game, last week. Playing in the Council of District Merchants tournament at Sharp's Park, he won the big cup for first place in Flight A, the top flight.

Congratulations to Art, Harry and George Alfinito for the intimate, new look of their piano-bar lounge at Rudolfo's, the eminent steakery in Palo Alto. The bar has been shortened, with more room devoted to seating at candlelit tables. Jeannie, the charming pianist, presides at the piano bar, where songlists help you select the tunes you wish to hear.

Finocchio's, on San Francisco's lively Broadway, is attracting celebrities of every type — including generals, heads of state, admirals, and even royalty, among which was the lovely Princess Irene of Greece, who was surrounded by her lady-in-waiting. The Princess especially enjoyed the dances of Reggie Dahl, whose Gypsy Rose Lee number is one of the hits of the show.

Cookery Now Open 24 Hours a Day

The Cookery, located in the new Mills Square, San Mateo, and under the expert guidance of owner "Pat" Fitzpatrick and manager "Robbie" Robertson, celebrated a festive grand opening, last week, that will long be remembered in restaurant circles. Although open and doing a remarkable business for the past few weeks, Thursday's activities marked the official opening of the ultra-modern food service complex.

Besides a large crowd of hungry diners, several top executives from the restaurant chain's home office in Santa Ana were on hand for the occasion. Judging from their smiling faces, you can safely say that the Cookery is a success — 24 hours a day.

Scotty Campbell's, the famed Redwood City restaurant featuring steaks and prime ribs of beef cooked to perfection, has long been a favorite with show business personalities, sports stars and political figures in the Bay Area. Among celebrities dining here recently were the legendary ventriloquist Edgar Bergen (minus Charlie McCarthy), and ace 49'er quarterback John Brodie.

Peter "pizza" Brallier, the "White Knight" of the Round Table Pizza Parlors, in San Mateo and Burlingame, has many specials for his patrons in the coming months. It will pay you to keep an eye on "Bright Lights" for Mr. Brallier's money saving values. Not completely devoted to pizzas, the Round Table proudly offers the Pride of Camelot Hamburgers, King Arthur Tournament Sandwiches, Guenevere's Garden Salads, soft drinks and draft beer on tap. Pizza, salads, sandwiches and beer are also packaged to go.

Banquet Expansion Is "Hobby" With Emerson Murfee

Emerson Murfee is probably one of the busiest restaurateurs your Bright Lighter has ever had the pleasure of meeting. Along with his many other interests in Valley towns and Nevada, Mr. Murfee puts his "shift" in at the Villa Charter and Lanai restaurants, and Lanai Liquor Store (many beverage specials for the forthcoming holidays are already on the shelves).

When I inquired why he selected the name of Winchester Room for his latest banquet room, which seats from 25 to 250 persons, is air conditioned, and has its own private bar and dance floor, Murfee smiled and said, "My pal Dave Rasmussen (he's the Shadows' restaurant Midas) told me that many banquet rooms reminded him of the Winchester House. Result—the new Winchester Room."

It might interest you to know that another banquet room is already being blue printed. A welcome addition to Peninsula night life is the Joe Sharper Combo, which opened Wednesday at Augie's on Third Avenue. Featuring leader Joe Sharper, Robert Neloms, Seward McKane and vocalist Terry Shaw, the music makers provide smooth dance sounds Wednesday through Saturday nights, from 9 p.m.

A 'Big Upset'

MAYORS' MEET DEPT. — Not a mention in the local media about that big upset the other p.m. at the San Mateo Council of Mayors' meet in SSF. The mayors voted San Bruno Councilman Maurice Hamilton OUT of ABAG as a director and replaced him with Sid Herkner, Redwood City mayor. Secret ballots showed a 9-4 count for the change — and after Hamilton had been an ABAG director for four years.

The new alternate for the directorship is San Bruno Councilman Karney Barberian. San Mateo Mayor John Murray was named to the new ABAG Executive Committee post.

According to our sources, there was a lot behind the scenes maneuvering to get Hamilton the post for another year, but the mayors indicated (via their ballots) it was time for a change.

SORRY ABOUT THAT — It seems Daly City DID NOT get that assistant city planner and are still looking. The mere mention (in our column) that the city had finally found a qualified applicant (from Salt Lake City) brought an unseasonal blast of chilly air from at least one staff member asked about it last week.

WE WROTE ABOUT THE COUNCIL directing the staff to look into the possibility of adopting an overnight parking ban in D.C., and the calls and letters poured in — all voicing support for the measure. Most WANT that law on parking RIGHT NOW. Ya listening, Mr. Councilman???

BAYFRONT FREEWAY — County Supervisor Jim Fitzgerald's plan for a "trestle" freeway along the bayfront isn't new. SSF planner Dan Pass came up with the idea more than six months ago. Although the project would be costly (as opposed to complete land fill) it would preserve the beauty of the Bay and would not affect tides, etc., according to Pass.

WATCH SAN BRUNO MOUNTAIN start coming down as soon as the Airport Bond issue is passed in San Francisco this month. Oddsmakers are claiming the voters will pass the bonds this time around. And once the bonds are passed and the work starts on those supersonic plane runways, where do you suppose the fill will come from???

WE FORGOT TO MENTION that D.C. attorney Dave Friedenberg (who recently came out in support of Monaco for Congress) is also president of the North San Mateo County Bar Association.

Competition vs. Laws

Competition is the American way of life. Attempts to "steal a march" on one's competitor or to "counter his moves to beat you" have resulted in unsettling side effects such as price wars, product disparagement in advertising and, from time to time, have created a flurry of legal pronouncements from state capitals.

THE LEGALITY of giveaway promotions of the major oil companies, who operate through their dealers, has recently been questioned. Five states, Ohio, Washington, Wisconsin, Idaho, and Kansas have already ruled giveaway games to be illegal. All states with lottery laws agree that the three elements of a lottery are prize, consideration and chance.

Just what constitutes "consideration" is often a matter of interpretation. The Attorney General of Ohio, the last state to rule that oil company giveaways violate state lottery laws, stated:

"A promotional game which requires a participant to go to the premises of a commercial enterprise to obtain a token necessary for participation, although no purchase is required to obtain the token, is a scheme of chance and a violation of the lottery statute."

However, he said, a game does not constitute a lottery if it is not necessary for a participant to go to the sponsor's premises to obtain a token, etc., necessary to compete.

HE further pointed that: The element of chance can exist even though a certain degree of skill is involved in the operation of the game.

The element of consideration is not eliminated by the fact that the participant does not pay for tickets, tokens, etc.

Even though a promotion game might not fit precisely into judicial outlines of a lottery it still could be prohibited as a scheme of chance under the statutes.

The action of five states in banning gasoline giveaways might not mean too much in terms of this particular promotion but it does add persuasive interpretations on the subject of lotteries and the law.

A Senate committee recently approved a House-passed bill which would prohibit federally insured banks from selling lottery tickets.

congressional races . . . didja notice all the BLACK signs sprouting around the county all of a sudden? Latest North County polls (and aren't you sick of them yet?), show Shirley T.B. in front, Pete McCloskey, Earl Whitmore, etc., etc., in that order, with Archibald running neck and neck with Keating.

A HUMOROUS FLAP is now going on between the North County Sanitation District and the Daly City Council over whether to charge the NSD a $20 building permit fee or not. If the city charges the NSD that fee, the "threat" is to remind the city about certain use fees they have not been paying. Don't feel bad, I don't know what they're talking about either.

WATCH FOR FIRE CAPTAIN John Martin to be commended by the D.C. Council for his bravery during a recent house fire. Martin apparently saved the life of a D.C. woman who fell unconscious in her third floor bedroom during a roaring fire which gutted the home. Some folks are even talking about nominating the modest hero for an annual national award given to firemen who display outstanding bravery in the line of duty.

THE MOSCOW CIRCUS is coming to town — the first time west of the Mississippi. They will spend Thanksgiving at the Cow Palace in Daly City — another first — and will undoubtedly stage one of the finest performances anywhere . . . so hurry hurry, hurry.

THEY INTERROGATED about 500 robbery suspects last night in San Bruno, according to Police Sgt. William Rogers, but none of the suspects suited the description of the two holdup men who robbed the Safeway Market Friday.

"They were all too young," Rogers said. (If you haven't figured it out, that's an inside joke at the S.B.P.D. The Safeway robbers wore Halloween masks.)

JEFF ELEMENTARY PLAN

A County First—Testing Of Spanish Speaking Students

A series of tests will soon be administered to Spanish speaking children in the Jefferson Elementary School District to determine their proper grade levels.

The unusual testing cycle is considered a "first" for San Mateo County by school authorities.

Up until now a "hit or miss" system of placing non-English speaking schoolchildren in classes was almost completely dependent on their age group.

But some children who might qualify for a higher grade have been sometimes held back simply because of their age group, while others have been placed in grades higher than they are able to cope with.

The language barrier between children and teachers has been blamed for the misgrading, according to administrators.

On a recent three-day visit to Mexico City, JESD trustee

Thomas Noonan and Roger Barthuli, assistant superintendent of the district, investigated the possibility of obtaining a series of school level tests written in Spanish, similar to those administered to Spanish-speaking children in Mexico.

The pair contacted Max Tudor, assistant superintendent of the American School in Mexico City, and with his help arranged to meet with Mexican school authorities to discuss the problem.

Noonan said that less than five years ago the number of Spanish-speaking children in the district "was negligible."

"I explained to the Mexican school officials the problem of communicating with these children was an increasing one and we had to find a solution to the problem of administering grade tests," Noonan said.

The district presently has some 100 children in the first six grades who speak only Spanish, and an equal amount of children who have known only a limited amount of English, Noonan said.

The Mexican school authorities agreed to assist Noonan and Barthuli in whatever way they could and suggested they administer the grade level tests to those students experiencing language difficulties.

The tests are similar to those given to American students, but are entirely in Spanish. They range from simple kindergarten tests through the sixth grade.

In some cases, Tudor has had California school grade tests translated into Spanish. These were also brought back for use in the district.

Exactly how the tests will be administered, or what to do with the children after grade levels have been established, is something the district must work out, Noonan said.

Dennis Huardo, a Spanish-speaking physical education instructor in the district, is studying the matter with Barthuli and others concerned with the project.

Once the district understands what level each student is best suited for, special classes may have to be established, Noonan explained.

Noonan noted the district is facing an increase in the number of non-English speaking children each year.

"Although we might not have found the final solution to this growing educational problem, I feel we have driven a wedge into it," he said.

The non-English speaking students are spread throughout the district's 21 schools and not concentrated in any one area.

In addition to applying the material to elementary grade children, Noonan has some information which "might be of value to the high school district."

Opera Described As 'Different'

Opera for our time was completely embodied in Saturday night's San Francisco Opera presentation of "The Visitation." Some loved it, some hated it but everyone agreed it was different.

By different, they mean the twelve-tone scale and overlay of jazz music that composer Gunther Schuller employed to express a contemporary story of black struggle from white power.

It is a powerful work, its music reminiscent of Alban Berg and its recitative prose libretto hauntingly similar to Menotti. The music may defeat the plot for those whose ears are not accustomed to the atonality, almost oblique, unresolved chords, the irregular harmonic patterns and harsh orchestral sounds. Even in its most disturbing delivery, there is a strength and greatness in the monumental structure of Schuller's work.

The opera is as exciting as it is unusual. Designers Leni Bauer-Ecsy and Davis L. West have created a maze of lead pipes through which the singers must climb, jump, swing and crawl. The jungle of red tape, bureaucracy, racial prejudice, legal, political and social barriers is effectively established with the help of theatrical lighting.

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT there is a logistics game in that if the east coast likes a production, the west won't and visa versa, "The Visitation" premiere followed a pattern. It was hailed in Europe last year when it made its world premiere in Hamburg, strongly booed in New York and San Francisco's mixed emotions may yet resolve by the time it's performed two more times (Nov. 3 and 8) to a more intellectual appreciation of the "modern" reaches of Schuller's expression.

Opera-goers educated to the lyrical melodies of Mozart and Puccini may feel offended at the cacophony of metallic sounds emanating from the orchestra pit; younger listeners whose ears are attuned to the jazz phrasing of the Don Ellis, and Modern Jazz Quartet groups will proclaim it as a symbolic break-through to a new idiom.

GYMNASTICS ARE AN INTEGRAL part of the action with Simon Estes, as Carter Jones, a Negro student, intimidated, threatened and accused by an established white society from which he cannot escape. Neon lights blazon the dark jungle of his existence, a Dixieland funeral band (John Handy group) draws him back through time to his heritage; avenues of help, of friendship, of understanding open and close as he seeks them out. He is a product of his time, idealistic, confused, and caught in a web of prejudice and power.

A highly dramatic presentation, it leaps out into the auditorium with its ferocity and dynamic blocks of tonal clusters. Opera audience who are so familiar with the music and well-known arias of an opera will find it disconcerting. And there are no lilting melodies one can hum as he leaves the opera house.

But Schuller's new work deserves recognition and a chance to break through that wall of immediate resistance accorded new and provocatively contemporary works. It certainly set the opera house back on its heels. When the rocking ceases, San Francisco may find the experience rewarding.

Our Opinion

Pesticides Derided

Conservationists in New York City are fighting the city's Parks Department with ladybugs, mantises and other insects in a battle over insecticides. Under the cloud of battle, it is difficult to tell who is winning, but the conservationists at least are making a point.

Behind it all is the belief of many persons, Layman and professional botanist alike, that entirely too much poison is being used on the land in attempts to control the pest population. The New York conservationists set out to prove they can do the same job without pesticides, by enlisting an army of "friendly" insects.

A 20-block area along the Hudson River was chosen as the battleground, and the fight was on. Some 300,000 ladybugs and a variety of mantises and wasp-like insects called Trichogramma were turned loose to feed on aphids and other leaf-eating insects.

In three months, the control area was as clean of destructive insects as any bombed with poisonous sprays by the Parks Department. The conservationists would like to continue the test for two or three years before recommending that the city do away with insecticides completely in favor of harmless (to humans) natural methods of pest control.

'You Should Read This'

I prescribe — although I'm not a physician, or a judge, or even a wise man — that everyone who takes part in a riot, everyone who thinks that America cannot solve her problems — everyone who thinks this country has been betrayed by her leaders read some of the things in Henry Steele Commager's "Documents of American History."

Here the dreams and hopes of the founding fathers are recorded in all their beauty. Here may be seen the highest aspirations of leaders of business and labor as well as those of political leaders. Here are statements of patriots who offered their lives to insure the freedoms that we enjoy.

Through these precious documents runs the steadfast commitment of Americans to secure and maintain liberty by lawful methods.

For example the statement made on November 29, 1773, by the New York Sons of Liberty. . . . we subscribers being influenced from a regard for liberty and disposed to use all lawful endeavors in our power, to defeat the pernicious project and to transmit to our posterity, those blessings of freedom which our ancestors have handed down to us; and to contribute to the support of the common liberties of America, which are in danger to be subverted, do, for these important purposes, agree to associate together, under the name and style of the Sons of Liberty of New York, and engage our honor to, and with each other. . . .

IN 1783 the patriots of Massachusetts took one Nathaniel Jennison to court for assaulting Quock Walker whom Jennison claimed as a slave.

The judge ruled Jennison guilty and wrote, "Whatever sentiments have formerly prevailed in this particular or slide upon us by example of others, a different idea has taken place with the people of America, more favorable to the natural rights of mankind, and to that natural, innate desire of Liberty, which with Heaven (without regard to color, complexion or shape of features) has inspired our human race."

"And upon this ground our Constitution of government, by which the people of this Commonwealth have solemnly bound themselves, sets out with declaring that all men are born free and equal, that every subject is entitled to liberty and to have it guarded by laws as well as life and property — and in short is totally repugnant to the idea of being born slaves."

"This being the case . . . there can be no such thing as perpetual servitude of a rational creature, unless his liberty is forfeited by some criminal conduct or given up by personal consent or contract."

This ruling had two far reaching effects. It outlawed slavery in Massachusetts, and it sounded the death of involuntary indentures. Within 20 years after it the courts of Indiana and the Northwest territory had ruled that indentures and similar systems of forced labor could not be enforced by law.

MANY DOCUMENTS in Commager's collection show that good Americans are dedicated to using lawful means, rather than riots and crime, to secure their rights.

In 1946 Congress stated that it is the responsibility of the Federal Government to use its functions and resources to create and maintain and promote free competitive enterprise "and the general welfare conditions under which there will be afforded useful employment opportunities, including self employment, for those able, willing, and seeking to work, and to remote maximum employment, production and purchasing power."

When proponents of a strong Civil Rights Act showed the courts and the congress that the Civil Rights Act of 1957 was ineffective, Congress passed a new act, dated May 6, 1960, which put all the power of the federal government behind a drive to vindicate the rights of Negroes.

A PARAGRAPH of title VI of that act reads: "In event that the court finds that any person has been deprived on account of color of any right or privilege secured by subsection (a) the court shall upon the request of the Attorney General and after each party has been given notice and the opportunity to be heard make a finding whether such deprivation was or is pursuant to a pattern or practice."

This was a statement in keeping with the traditional American commitment to use the Courts, the Congress, and the Executive Department to maintain the rights of Americans.

One of the Negro men who argued for civil rights before congress has become an associate justice of the Supreme Court. His accomplishments and those of others who have used legal means — rather than riots — are classics found in "Documents of American History"; among them are Gornillion v. Lightfoot and Garner v. Louisiana, et al.

"Documents of American History" is in its seventh edition.

Many Americans have seen it and use it. Many more should do so.

County Board To Require Tree Planting

An ordinance requiring at least one street tree to be planted in front of each residential lot in future subdivisions in unincorporated areas approved October 24 by the County Board of Supervisors.

There was no opposition. The county subdivision ordinance provides only that trees may be required as determined by the planning commission. The amendment makes at least one tree mandatory and still gives the commission discretion to require additional trees.

Supervisor Robert St. Clair said there are areas in the county — he mentioned Daly City as one such area — where climatic conditions make it impossible to grow certain types of trees, if any at all. He asked about the possibility of allowing "bushes" instead of trees in such cases. The Board agreed that any exceptions to the new rule will be dealt with as the need arises.

NANCY SWANBERG, a fourth grade student at Rollingwood School in San Bruno, was one of the award winners in the recent "Fire Prevention Week" poster contest sponsored by the San Bruno Fire Department. Her poster utilized a smokey the Bear theme.

'Hawk After Doves' Wants Escalation

Probably the most "hawkish" of all the candidates in the special Eleventh District congressional election is Daly City

Democrat Bryant McDonald. McDonald described himself in an interview this week as "a hawk after the doves," and said he feels the United States military should "escalate the Vietnamese War to complete victory."

"I recently returned from a trip to the Far East," McDonald said, "and I observed that every country in Southeast Asia was fearful we would pull out of Vietnam."

"But, when the President of the United States gave them a clear understanding that we would not pull out, they began to send their troops in. If we pull out of Vietnam without a clearcut victory, all Southeast Asia will fall to the communists," he said.

McDonald also favors a firm stand by Israel in the Middle East situation.

"I believe Israel should keep all of old Jerusalem and the walling wall so all nations will be free to come and enjoy the spiritual atmosphere," he said.

"I also feel the Suez Canal and Aqaba Straits should be open to trade for the ships of all nations without fear of being sunk," he stated.

On the home front, McDonald favors stern measures against those who participate in civil disobedience.

"Riots and rioters should be topped now," he said. "The agitators, regardless of who they are, should be brought to justice and severely punished for trying to overthrow our government. The actions of these people can no longer be tolerated."

"People are not even safe in their homes any more. I believe a man's home is his castle regardless of where he lives. Our homes and our lives should be protected at all cost."

McDonald favors organized labor, and said he would support union labor "100 per cent" if elected.

He also favors tax exemptions and other forms of financial aid to the elderly.

A native Texan, McDonald has resided in the Bay Area since 1941, and operates a real estate business in San Francisco.

He is a U.S. Navy veteran of World War II, and is active in area V.F.W. affairs.

3 Hurt In Weekend Car Crashes

Two persons were injured in separate automobile accidents Sunday in South San Francisco, police reported. Another was hurt in Daly City.

Robert E. Hall was treated for minor injuries at Kaiser Hospital after his car struck the rear of another automobile at the intersection of El Camino Real and Hickey Boulevard.

The other car was driven by Lyle E. Wilson.

John C. Lawhorn was injured at 5 p.m. Sunday when his automobile struck a parked car in the 800 block of Hemlock Street. Lawhorn is in good condition at Mary's Help Hospital.

A 70-year-old San Francisco woman was injured in a traffic accident at the corner of East Market and Mission Streets, Daly City, Saturday.

Betty Campbell, of 175 Denlowe Street, San Francisco, was a passenger in a car driven by Minnie C. Mosser, 75, of 150 Coronado Street, Daly City, when it collided with another car at the busy intersection.

The driver of the second car was identified as Dolores P. MavQuarrie, 28, of 6925 Mission Street, Daly City.

Miss Campbell was rushed to St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco by Mercy Ambulance for treatment of head injuries.

Police are continuing their investigation of the accident.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Small cavities in the teeth can be filled more easily and with less discomfort than large ones. If decay is neglected it leads to infection and abscess formation. An infected tooth is a hazard to good health and often must be removed. A tooth that has been lost should be replaced by an artificial one. If it is not, the other teeth will shift. This shifting may lead to more decay and to diseases of the gums. Irregular placement of the teeth should be corrected for many reasons: To improve appearance, speech, and the ability to chew foods and to help prevent other dental diseases. Have your dentist check for cavities and follow his recommendations if treatment is needed.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth. Dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

LOOK OF THE FUTURE — Highlighted by soaring circular canopies and clean, attractive lines, this new Mobil Oil service station at San Pedro Boulevard and Junipero Serra in Daly City heralds the look of tomorrow. Designed for Mobil by noted architect Eliot Noyes after years of research, it is one of only 50 constructed thus far in the U.S. and is the first in the San Francisco area. With industry, civic and government representatives attending, the unique station was dedicated at 11:30 a.m. yesterday.

THE STEEL GOES UP on schedule for the $20 million Serramonte Regional Shopping Center in Daly City. Framed by the beams and uprights of the new Montgomery Ward store are Mary's Help Hospital and the steelwork for other structures that will house the nearly 70 stores on the 72-acre site. Serramonte Center, a project of Suburban Realty Company, is scheduled to open in the Fall of 1968. Suburban Realty is a joint venture of Crocker Land Company and The Gellert Organizations. General contractor for the Serramonte project is Ernest W. Hahn, Inc.

THE POST AUTO WORLD

Although the Qos Angeles area continues to grow by leaps and bounds, doctors advise about 10,000 persons each year to leave Los Angeles because of smog. A spokesman for the L.A. County Medical Association labeled automobiles as the chief cause of air pollution and said, "Los Angeles residents have the choice of driving the kinds of autos and using current fuels, and breathing — but they won't have the choice long."

However, according to Business Week, most pollution experts and Detroit's Big Three agree that the internal combustion engine will be around at least well into the 1980's — but minus 80 per cent to 95 per cent of the noxious pollutants they once emitted.

The electric car will come, they say, but not as a cure-all to the pollution problem. Rather it is expected to find a market of its own as a small urban vehicle for relatively short distances.

More than 15.5 million trucks are now supporting the nation's economy, according to a new Automobile Manufacturers' Association report.

In its 1967 edition of the statistical booklet, Motor Truck Facts, the AMA says that truck registrations have increased by more than 700,000 during the past year bringing the nation's total to 15,582,114. Since 1956 truck registrations have increased nearly 50 per cent.

The Space Saver Spare Tire introduced by B. F. Goodrich Tire Company is standard equipment on all models of the 1968 Pontiac Firebird sports car, it was announced by P. W. Perdriau, president of the BFG division.

The spare folds up on its wheel when deflated, but unfolds to standard size when inflated with a can of compressed gas, which is issued with the tire. When stored in deflated condition, the unusual tire saves enough space to accommodate an average-size suitcase.

Appointment: Bert E. Tudor has been named Lease, Car Rental and Fleet Manager by Kenneth W. Jones, president and general manager of Jones-Minto Ford Sales, Burlingame. Japan's giant Toyota Motor Company advanced to fortieth place in Fortune magazine's (Sept. 15, 1967) annual evaluation of the 200 largest foreign corporations in the world, making the seventh consecutive annual advance by Japan's No. 1 auto maker.

Combined with a net profit of $47 million on 1966 sales of $929 million, Toyota retained its dominant position as Japan's largest producer of commercial vehicles.

D.C. Bank Dividends Are Given

ALFRED A. PARODI is now settled at the Pacifica branch of Wells Fargo bank as assistant manager, succeeding Robert Carew, recently moved to the West Portal office as assistant manager. Parodi, a native of San Francisco, attended high school in Daly City, where he and his family live.

Stockholders of the First National Bank of Daly City of record October 18 have received a five per cent stock dividend, payable December 1, pending approval by the Controller of Currency.

Announcement was made at the annual meeting last week at which time it was also announced that a regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents per share had been declared by directors, payable November 15.

Board Chairman Ricco Lagomarsino said that the stock dividend would increase the bank's 30,000 shares outstanding by 1,500 shares. Holders of fractional shares would have the choice of purchasing the balance of the shares or selling their fraction, he said.

President Evert Terminello pointed out that the quarterly dividend was the sixth successive for the Daly City bank,

State Route Is Adopted

The California Highway Commission has passed a resolution adopting as a State Highway a half-mile section of St. Francis Boulevard between the new Junipero Serra Freeway and Skyline Boulevard.

The project, costing some $1,800,000 overall, will consist of grading, structural work and surfacing of a four lane roadway.

The Commission approved the expenditure during a meeting last month.

Upon completion of the project, Alemany Boulevard between the Junipero Serra Freeway and Skyline Boulevard — presently a State Highway — will revert back to Daly City.

which opened in May 1963 and which now operates two offices in Daly City and Pacifica with total assets of $12,337,000.

Peninsula Pupils Vie for Honors

Each year the state superintendent of public instruction selects two outstanding high school students to participate in Senate Youth Week in Washington, D.C.

During one week in the fall, the two students would have an opportunity to see Congress in action, visit with California's two senators and meet the President of the United States.

Every high school is asked to send its representative's name grades and a list of activities to a screening committee. The district for this area covers the entire Peninsula.

From among the 35 eligible schools, Oceana has had its candidate, Nels Gabbert, named as one of the two Peninsula representatives. Meta Mendel of Mills High School is the other.

Nels, currently serving as Oceana's student body president, has been active in athletics as well as student government and club activities, all the while maintaining outstanding grades. Winning honors of this nature is not new to Nels since he recently was awarded a National Science Foundation award, whereby he spent last summer engaged in scientific research in Washington, D.C.

Nels must now compete on the basis of a comprehensive examination on the function and structure of federal government with the other semi-finalists throughout the state.

According to Oceana principal, Dr. Robert Watt, "Nels is a truly outstanding young man and very deserving of this honor. We are confident that in the forthcoming competition Nels will compete well and will make a favorable showing for himself and his school."

The program is sponsored by the Hearst Foundation.

New Design In Penney's Extinguisher

Readers' Digest called it "The Appliance No Home Should be Without." Penney's calls it the "Little Chief" fire extinguisher, and a homeowner who experiences a fire might call it a life-saver.

The subject of fire extinguishers is pertinent all year, but is particularly so now, during National Fire Prevention Week, October 8-14.

While the best time to prevent a fire is before it starts, a fire extinguisher in the home or auto may prevent a serious fire by stopping it when it starts — before it can destroy property, or worse, lives.

Penney's Little Chief extinguisher is a new design, dry chemical model, effective against flammable liquid and electrical fires — everything but wood and paper. It is particularly useful in putting out kitchen grease fires and automobile engine fires — among the most common types.
